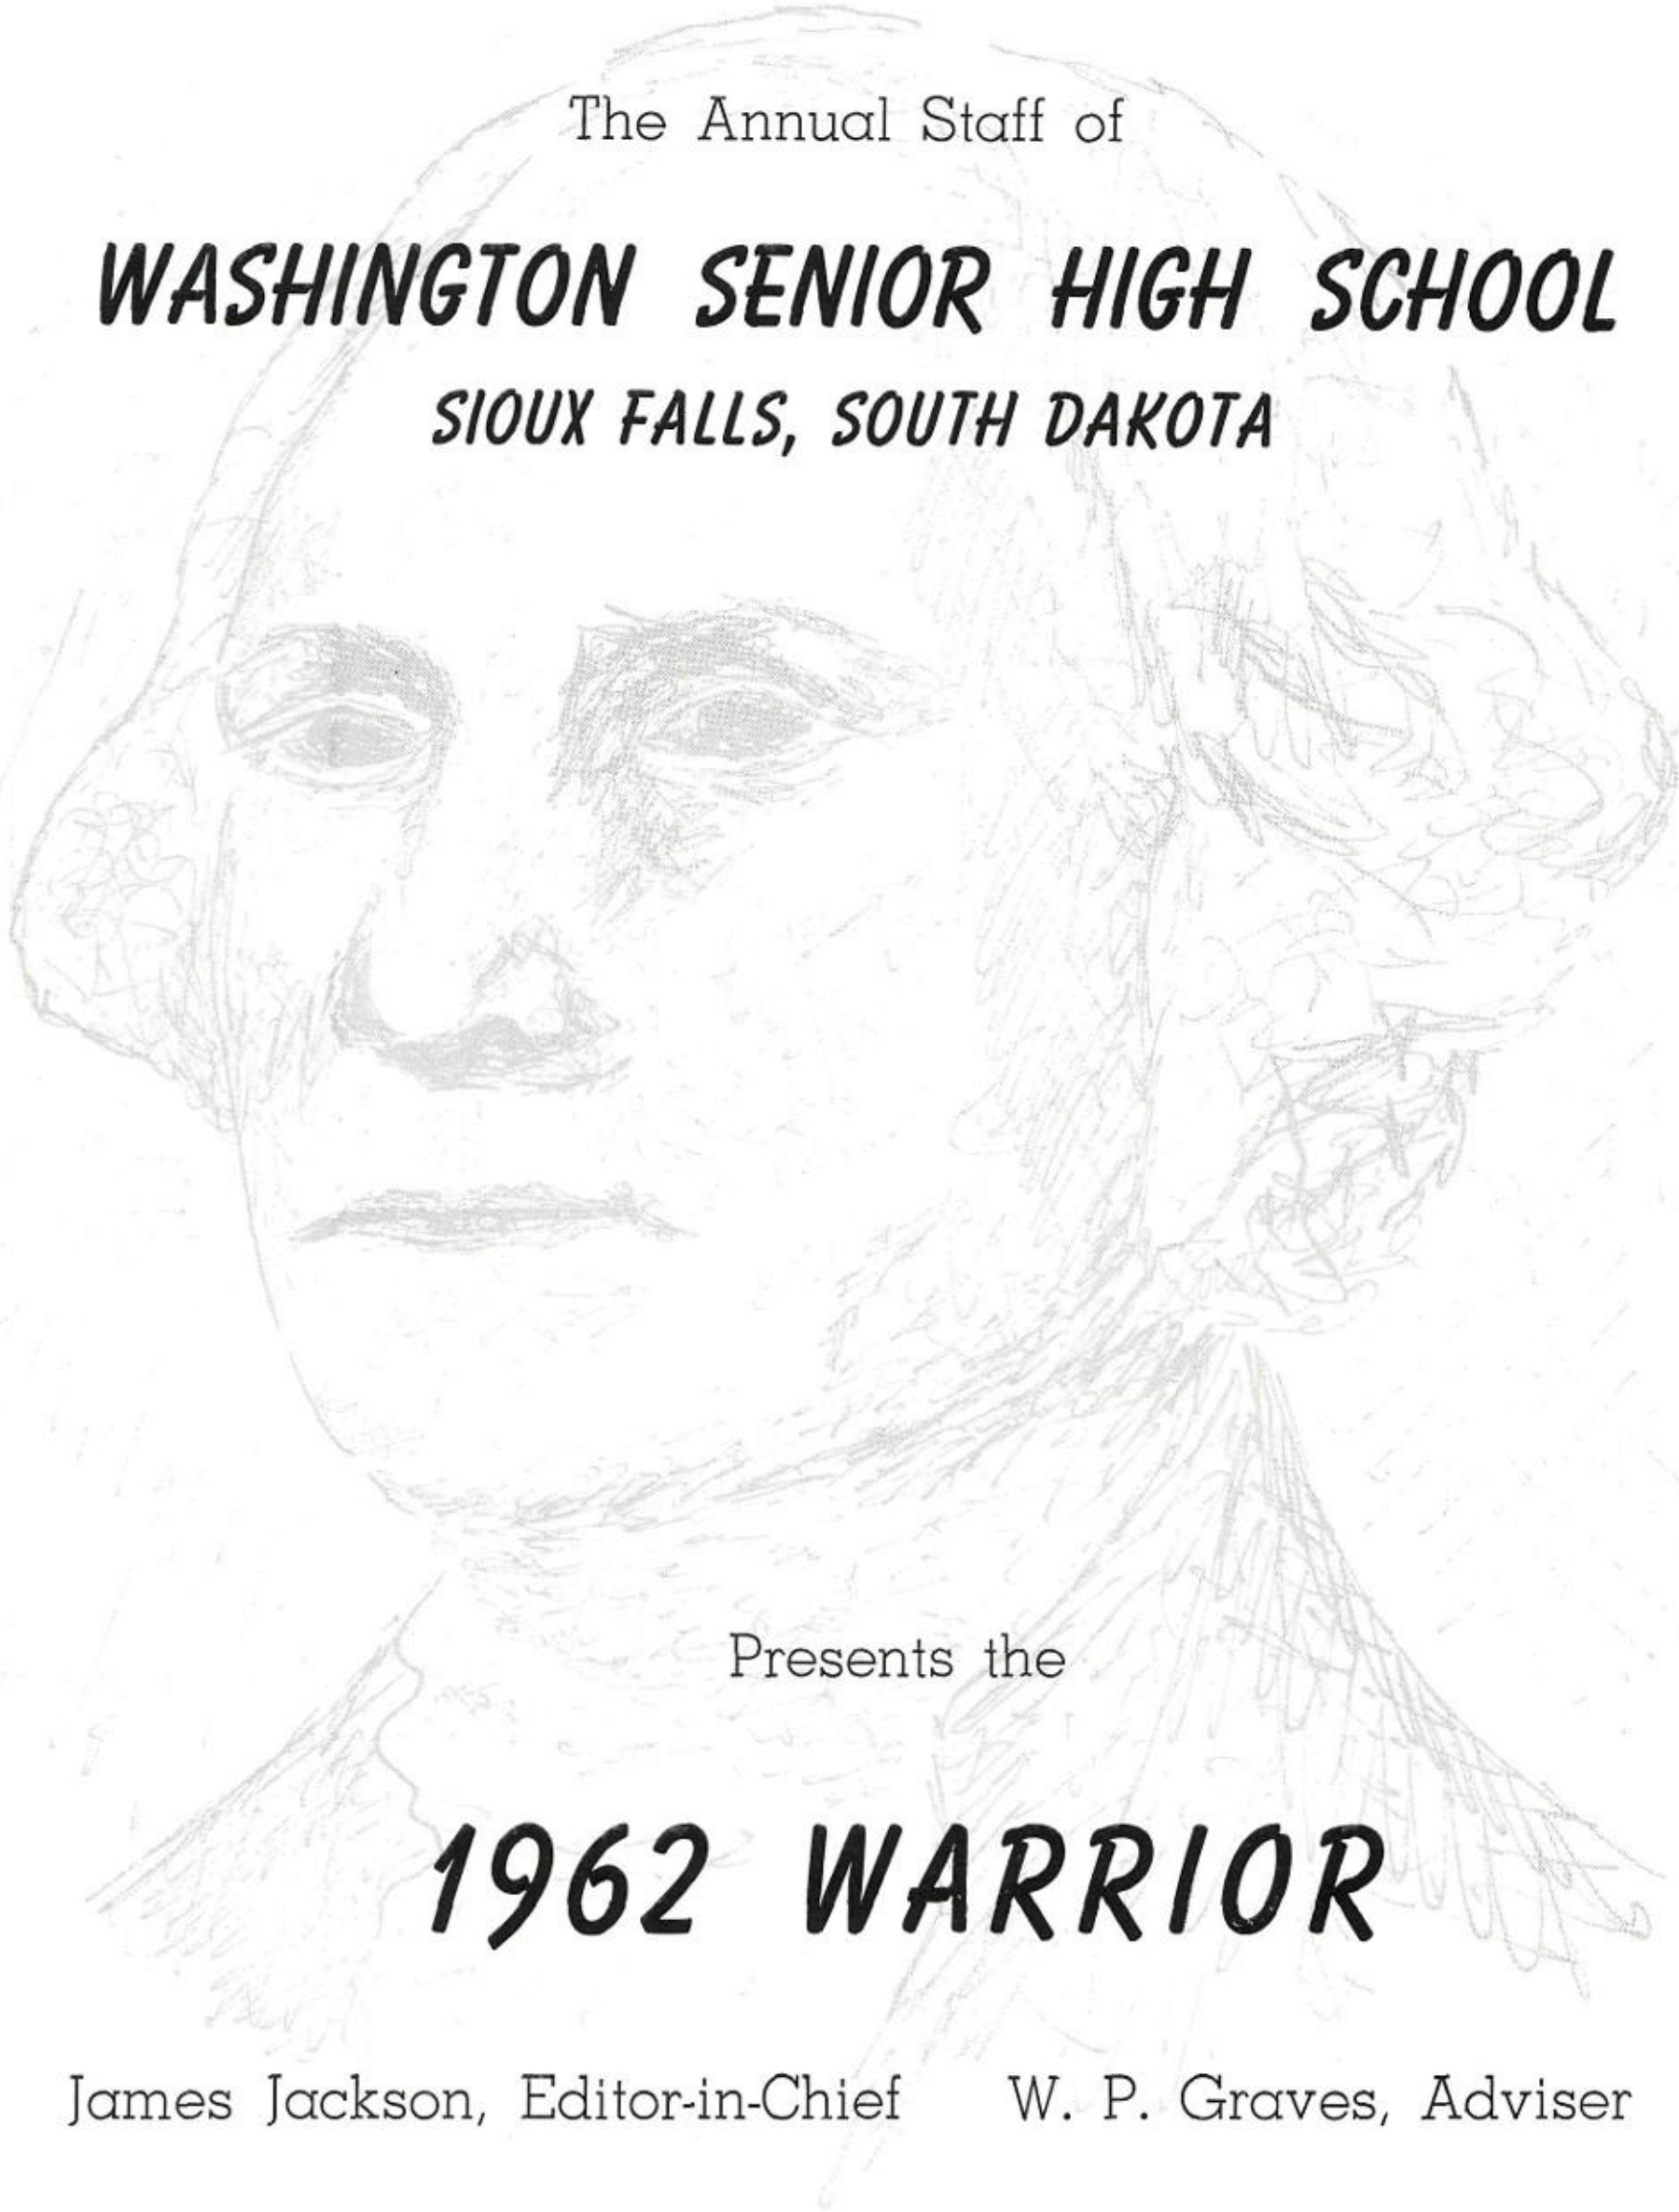
The Annual Staff of

WASHINGTON SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

SIOUX FALLS, SOUTH DAKOTA



Presents the

1962 WARRIOR

James Jackson, Editor-in-Chief W. P. Graves, Adviser

DEDICATION

As tradition dictates, every dedication should be written in superlative, glowing terms. The Warrior staff dedicates our book to a woman for whom the proper words to express our gratitude cannot be found.

Judging this fine lady on her abilities alone would be reason enough to dedicate a yearbook to her. But, we have considered mainly her personality. She has given freely and sacrificially of her time and talents to the individual wants of students and her fellow faculty members.

The staff of the 1962 Warrior proudly dedicates this year's book to Dorothy Furrow.

Dorothy Furrow

The world stands out on either side
No wider than the heart is wide;
Above the world is stretched the sky, —
No higher than the soul is high.
The heart can push the sea and land
Farther away on either hand;
The soul can split the sky in two,
And let the face of God shine through.
But East and West will pinch the heart
That can not keep them pushed apart;
And he whose soul is flat — the sky
Will cave in on him by and by.

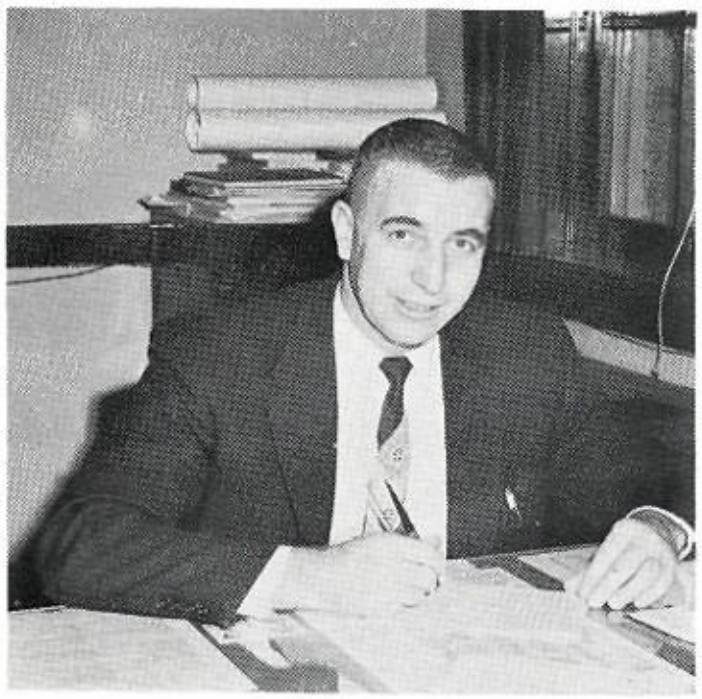
Administration

Activity Pulsates from Nerve Center of WSHS

The question, "What happens in room 101?" is often asked. The answer is complicated, but one thing is certain — being principal is a big job! A typical day might include making out the next day's bulletin, conferring with a student, ordering new textbooks and supplies, and assembling class schedules. This year long task belongs to Ben Rossow, our principal. Though running our school is not an easy task, it offers new and different challenges daily.



Mr. Menzel, assistant principal, knows well the definition of the word discipline — training that strengthens. It is his unpleasant task to demonstrate this definition for some of us. However, most WSHS students know him as someone who spends much time helping us solve many school problems. His help will long be remembered by those who have passed through these halls.

A school secretary must possess much more than intelligence and alertness, although these qualities are important. One must also exercise patience, courtesy, and friendliness. Our school secretaries, Judy Thirstrup and Shirley Struyk, exemplify these characteristics. Through their friendly efficiency, they have done much to keep the machine of WSHS operating smoothly.

Edith Davies, our registrar, keeps the school records up to date, determines class rank, makes record transcripts for colleges, and registers new students. She makes many lasting friendships by interviewing students every day. Though she has a very busy schedule, she always finds time to aid WSHS students in any way she can.

School Board Runs Seven Million Dollar Business

Seated below: Richard Flint, Charles Gregg, Mrs. M. E. Schirmer, Pastor Selmer Heen, and Dr. P. C. Reagan. Standing: Norman Fodness, Claude Hamilton, Carl Hermann, Superintendent E. W. Skarda, Assistant Superintendent R. F. Trusler, and Arthur Hoehl.

Do we need a new high school? Should more money be appropriated for debate and declam? What should the policy be toward absentees? These are only a few of the many questions considered by the Board of Education.

Meeting year-round, the Board determines all school policy; nothing is too large or too small for its attention. The members are elected for 2 year terms by the citizens of Sioux Falls and are paid the nominal sum of $2.50 for each meeting they attend.

As the end of another school year approaches, the members of the Board of Education can look back upon 1961-1962 as a year well-planned and efficiently executed.

The superintendent of schools is the executive of the Sioux Falls educational system. He attends school board meetings, formulates educational policy, and interprets the proceedings of the board. Shown below, taking time from his busy schedule to have his picture taken, is Superintendent E. W. Skarda.

Assistant superintendent R. F. Trusler interviews prospective school personnel. The need for additional teachers in the growing school system and yearly turnover among the teaching staff place great demands on his time. Shown below is Mr. Trusler explaining his job to a member of the yearbook staff.

Understanding Is Our Business

Guidance — a series of services which enables each individual to better understand his abilities, weaknesses, and interests, to help him develop his strengths, and to set proper goals for himself. Our counselors' sincere interest in each of us has truly been a help to many WSHS students in their daily problems and in their future plans.

Six Competent Men Head WSHS Departments

Six directors supervise the various educational phases of our school life. Several former teachers hold these positions after years of experience in the educational field. Controlling the work of their individual departments are C. R. Beck, director of testing; Robert Blake, audio-visual aids; Glen Bunday, vocational and adult education; Wallace Diehl, director of athletics; Douglas Evans, director of physical education; and Halvin Johnson, director of guidance and counseling.

Teachers Reveal New Paths to Understanding

Teachers will give many reasons for entering their chosen profession, but their goal, as stated by one teacher is "to assist each student in helping himself to become a better educated person."

Washington High's growing student population necessitates an increasing faculty. In 1961-62 ninety-four classroom instructors make up the faculty. There are, in addition, numerous counselors, supervisors, administrators, directors, and other non-teaching educational specialists. All of these educators have earned the bachelor degree. Many hold additional degrees and scholastic distinctions.

Our teachers come from every corner of the United States but most of them are midwesterners by birth and education.

The wealth of wisdom and experience which our teachers possess is available to all of us; their many qualities become a part of us as we are moulded by them during our formative years.

The first thing education teaches you is to walk alone.—Trader Horn.

Nine Students Work as Administration Aids

Each year several senior girls work as assistant clerks in the office. Mary Jo Long, Donna Davey, Ann Dahl, Doris Hanson, Etta Eleeson, Marcia Coates, Glenda Jorgensen, Dianne Scherschligt, and Susan Stewart make up this year's secretarial staff.

The Student Council Makes the Laws

The student council, comprised of one representative elected from each homeroom, is our student governing body. Meeting about once a month, the council organizes projects such as the Salvation Army canned food drive.

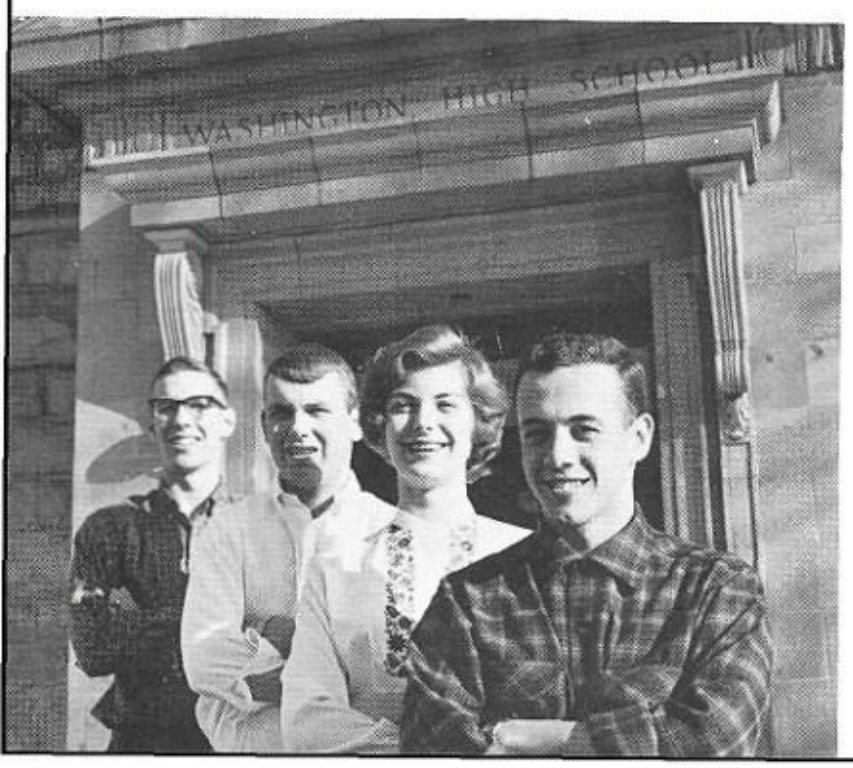
The ethics committee represents the judicial branch of WSHS government. This group, which meets with Mr. Tabor once a month, is shown here before they embark upon a grueling period at the bench. 1961-1962 committee members are Don Breit, Carolyn Smith, Chuck DeGroot, and Bob Friess. Not pictured is Carol Brandland.



The executive council gives the canned food donated by Washington High students to Captain Kraft of the Salvation Army. The members of this year's council are president, Don Breit; sergeant-at-arms, Steve Nord; secretary-treasurer, Peggy O'Donnell; vice-president, Bruce Halverson; and adviser, Mr. Tabor.

The Monitors Enforce Them

In each corner, on every stairway, and in all the lavatories stands a boy or girl with a small orange button fastened in some inconspicuous spot. These are the monitors, the police force of Washington High.

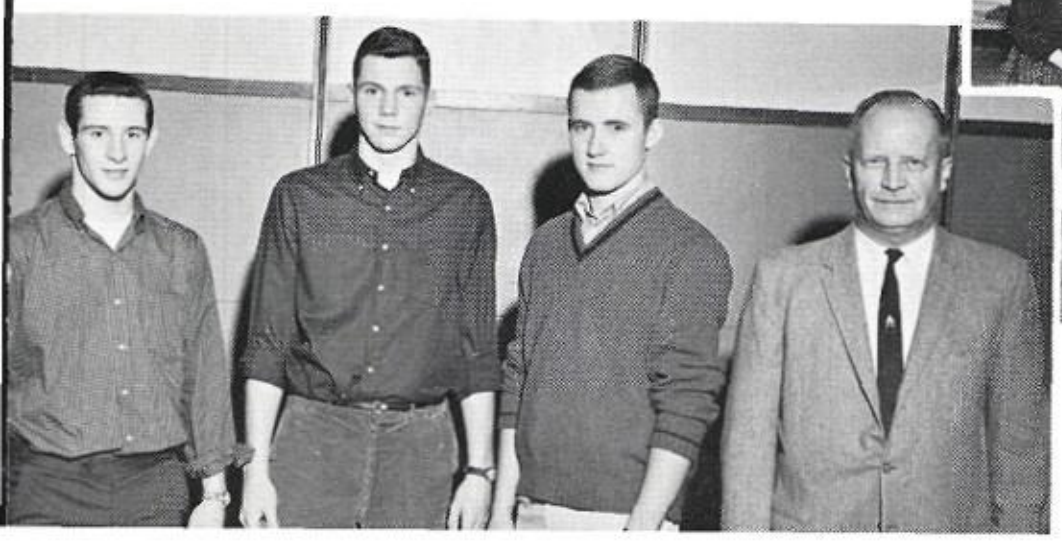
The monitor board, comprised of a representative from each classification and advised by Mr. Tabor, aids in selecting and supervising the monitors. This year's board members are Jim Breit, John Williamson, and Jim Adams.

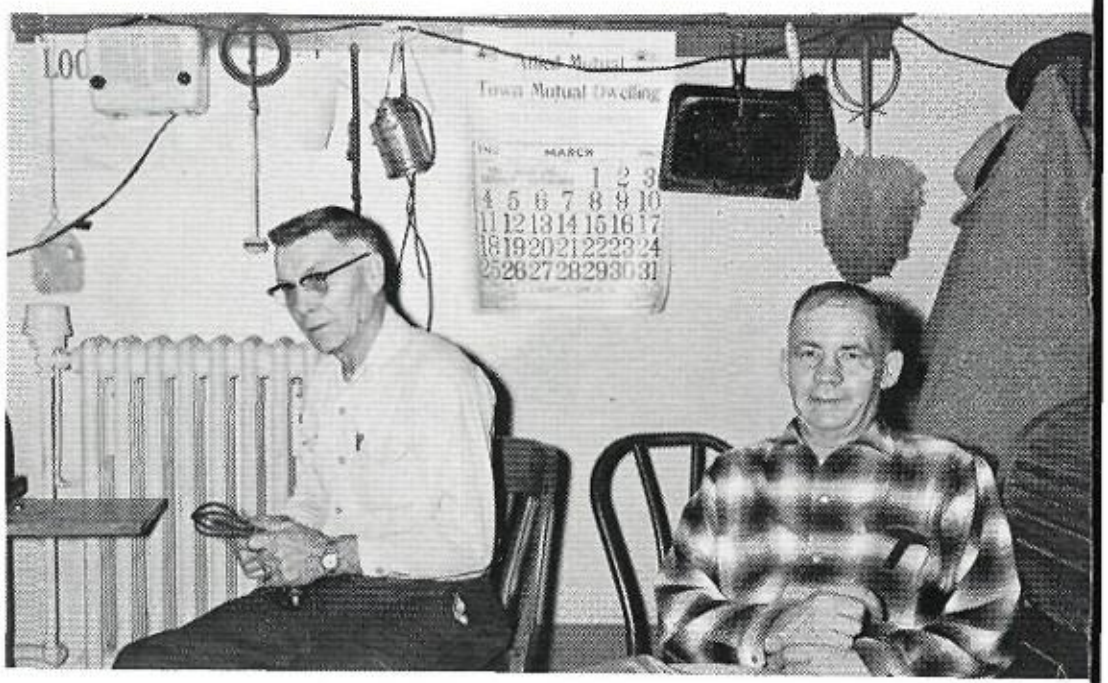


WSHS Cooks Fill the Void

Many students of Washington High will agree that among the most important of school personnel are the cooks. Behind the large selection of food offered to us each day are many hours of work. Aside from merely cooking and serving the food, the cooks also take inventory once a month and decide what food is needed. Pictured below, first row, are Mrs. Hoisington, Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Adler, and Mrs. Smith. Second row, Mrs. Herman, Mrs. Stoll, Mrs. Rubin, Mrs. Dumgardner, Mrs. Chaney, and Mrs. Graham.

Mrs. Roberta Stroman is in charge of the cafeteria and orders all the food.

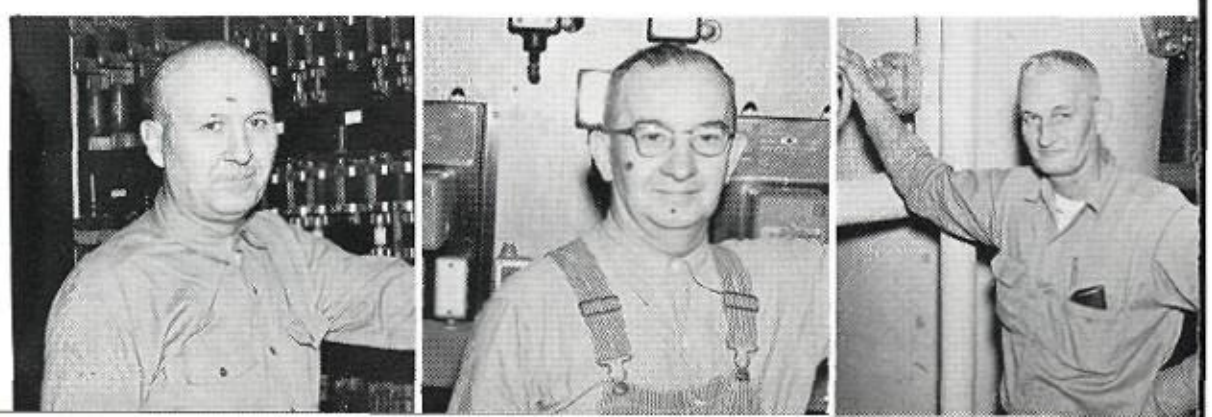
Washington High Custodians Clean House



Floyd Olson and Jim Stanton, above right, the day custodians, are well known to most students.

The night crew has the enormous task of cleaning the school each evening. Dick Nelson, Sam Stephenson, Ervin Stalzer, Roy Jorgenson, Ralph Moore, and Clarence Willer work each night from five to twelve.

Probably the loneliest job in school is that of engineer. There are men on duty in the boiler room at all hours except from one o'clock A.M. to four o'clock A.M. Pictured below are the three engineers, Clarence Budd, Bob Simpson, and Ralph Shepard.

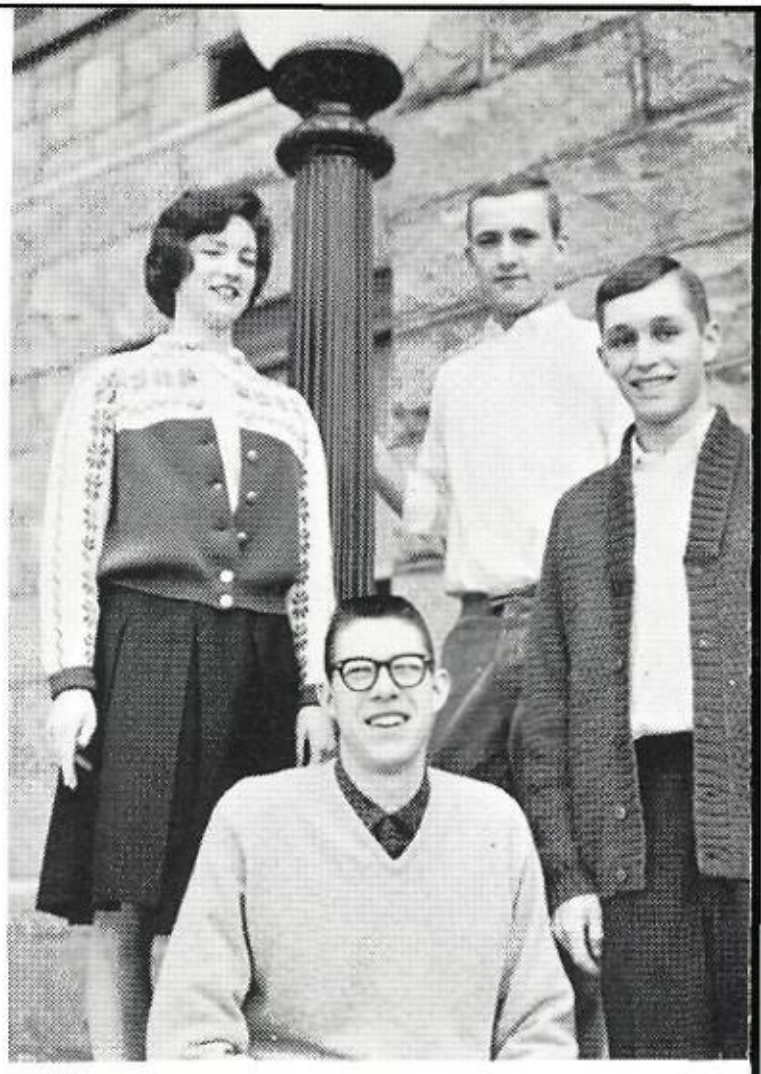


Seniors

Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgot . . .

The years that we have spent in Washington Senior High School have been ones of hard work, joy, success, failure, triumph, and frustration; we have been disgruntled and pleased, punished and rewarded. We entered the halls of WSHS under the threat of world conflict and we will leave with equally ominous misgivings.

The importance of the time spent here is surely relative. We may use the knowledge given us by our inspired instructors or discard it, rationalizing that the work was just "something we had to do." The twenty-seven months we have been involved with secondary education now seem so short when compared to the future.



Serving as senior class officers are Peggy O'Donnell, secretary; Larry Brunick, vice-president; Jim Adams, president; and Bob Wilson, treasurer.

The senior social committee includes Cliff Hammers, Jan Madland, LeRoy Halstenson, Carol Brandland, Jim Brix.

The life wasn't all work, however. We found ourselves working on extracurricular activities, participating in outside functions, going to parties, and generally "keeping busy" just for our own enjoyment.

Some have a sense of satisfaction about high school while others have considered it a waste of time; a few will be back next year — all carrying on an existence peculiar only to themselves.

This one thing is for sure. Our personal involvement with teachers and fellow students, and the dialogue which ensued will surely be a lasting influence on all our lives.

Seniors Enjoy Annual Banquet

Miss Dorothy Furrow is shown lighting the candles on the well decorated tables prior to the meal.

Jerry Saetveit sings to an appreciative audience directly following the meal.

Chuck Schroyer and Bonny Forster were a lucky couple as they ate their meal together.

"A Tale of the Senior Class" was presented in a humorous manner by Jim Brix and Bob Wilson.

Presenting . . .
Class of 1962 Representatives

It has been a yearly Warrior tradition to choose some of those persons who best exemplify the ideals of the senior class. The twenty seniors shown here are recognized for their good citizenship and varied abilities. They are truly representative.

The Warrior extends sincere congratulations and profound thanks to the persons pictured on these pages for their individual contributions to a great class.

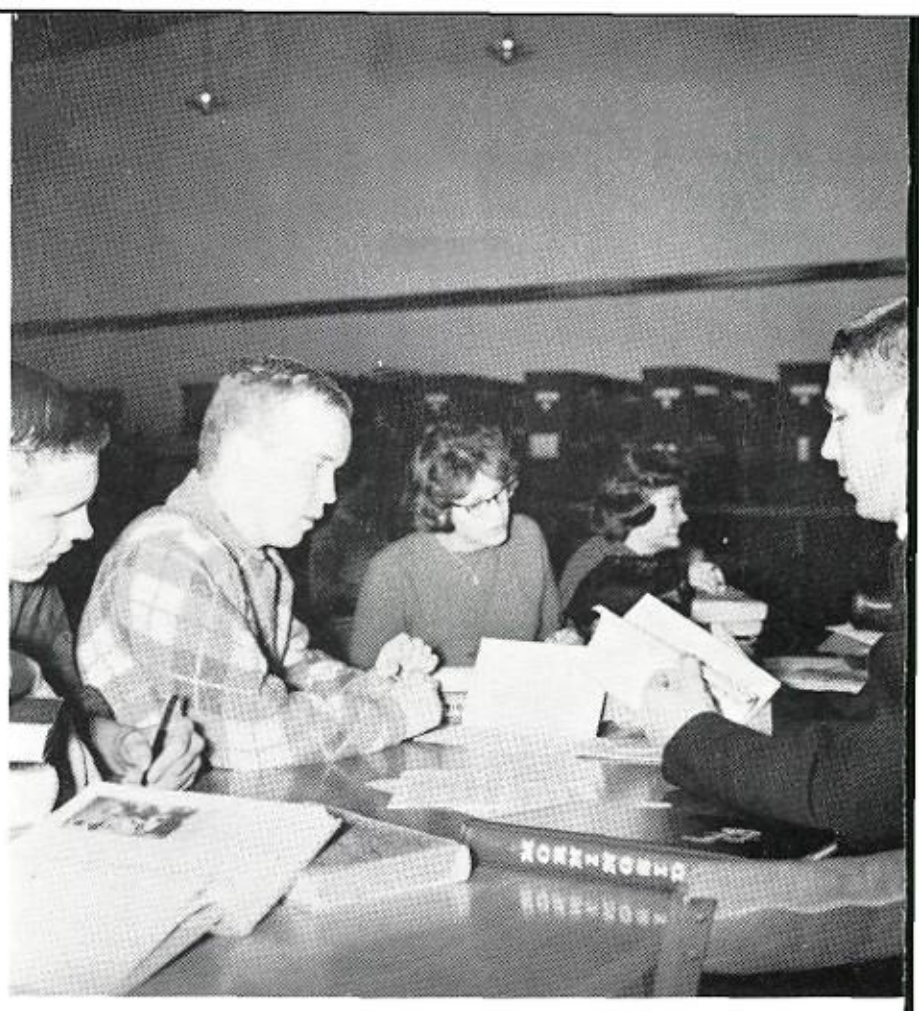
It seems that during the SDEA Convention, Diane Bott, a reporter for the Orange and Black, fell asleep in the midst of heated debate over federal aid to education. Diane made a diligent effort to cover the convention despite the bags that developed under her eyes in the effort to follow the moves of our teachers.



College Day is one of the most important days of the school year. Here Ron Luce talks with a propagandist from Morningside College. The day is helpful for two reasons. The time not only is good for discovering what college to attend, but what college not to attend. Ronny does look interested, though.

Bruce Halverson, in the past, has been known for the "hard to get" attitude which he affects. However, one night just for kicks, he decided to give his girl friend some lovely red roses. Because of this, his classmates gave him a fine bouquet of milkweeds which he is shown holding. Bruce seems to be filled with some chagrin, as you can see.

If someone asks you who is responsible for your parents trudging up to fourth floor to see your teachers, you may answer that they are these fine ladies. The girls shown here find time each month to guide lost parents to the revealing conversations in some instructor's room. They're helpful people, aren't they?

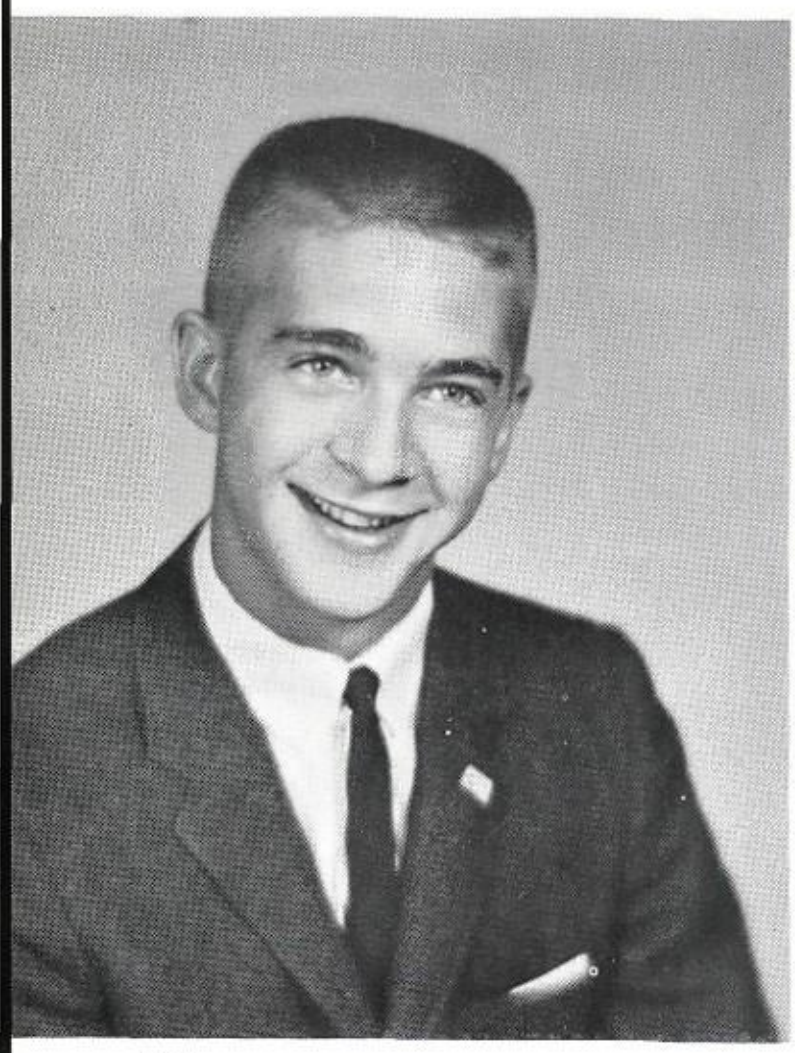
Warrior Royalty Hail '61 Homecoming

Dear Students,

It was my privilege and honor to serve you as Master of Ceremonies of Orange Letter Day, 1961. The occasion was one of the most memorable that I have had at WSHS, and I hope that it was as much for all of you. Because of bad weather, the days preceding OLD were gloomy, but, as it turned out, the weather was perfect for the day's festivities, with the exception of a little drizzle during the football game.

Jim Jackson MC'd the Talent Show in the morning. The show consisted of a host of talented students, singing, dancing, and otherwise entertaining the audience. The orchestra played well, and helped to contribute to the show's success. After the show everyone scurried to garages to make last minute preparations. All of us had worked hard on our floats; now was no time to stop.



The coronation in the early afternoon was a spectacle to behold. The pageantry was breath-taking. Royal acclaim was heard as Jan Madland and Don Breit were crowned Queen and Marshal. You gave them a great reception in the cafeteria afterwards where all the royal group gathered.

Then the parade began. With the band leading, and your royalty close behind, a great array of floats moved slowly through the crowds that had gathered along Phillips and Main Avenues. But the day was not over. Although the weather was beautiful during the morning and afternoon, a light, misty drizzle fell during most of the football game, played against Sioux City Central High. This did not prevent the Warriors from running the opposition into the ground — 35 to 0.

Then came the dance, the high point of our Homecoming. A crowd attended the affair, as the All-Stars swung.

Looking backward, homecoming this year was one of the best in the school's history. The credit for all of this comes from many sources. I would like to commend all the OLD committees, the faculty advisers, and the students themselves, who all helped to make Orange Letter Day, 1961, one of the greatest homecomings ever.

Sincerely yours,

Jim Bair

Students Plan and Celebrate Biggest Orange Letter Day

Bruce Halverson, student chairman, discusses OLD plans with Homer E. Thurston, general chairman.

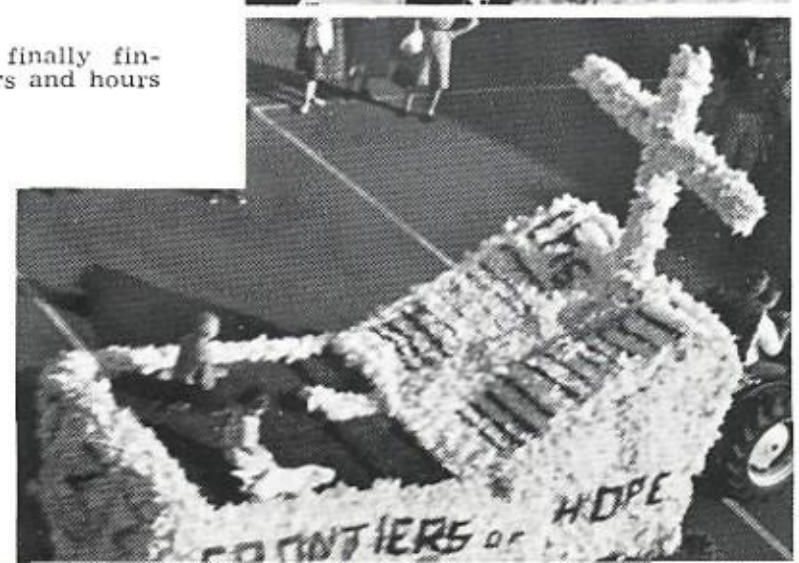
Planning the OLD activities are the student chairmen with the advisers. Barbara White, Carol Brandland, coronation; Clara Ollenbur Betsy Jordan, favors; Ardeen Foss, Bruce Halverson (missing), talc show; Cheryl Hanson, Don Jorgensen, parade; Barb Andersen, J Lemohn, dance; and Jim Adams, Paul Hutton (missing), football.

John Thurston convinces us that it does take long hours to stuff napkins in chicken wire.

Barb Shoemaker peeks at Steve Parker who is drowning in a sea of napkins.

Phil Hegg sprays the finishing touches on his sophomore homeroom float.

The float is finally finished after hours and hours of work.



Superlatives best describe the thirty-ninth version of Orange Letter Day. September 29, 1961, was the earliest recorded calendar date for the homecoming event. Because school enrollment is up, more W.S.H.S. students than ever before thrilled to the talent show, coronation, parade, football game, and dance. The shortest parade (thirty-three floats) in at least fifteen years traveled the historic Phillips-and-Main-Avenue route; groups of two or more homerooms united to produce floats which were uniformly excellent in theme interpretation and craftsmanship.

After the traditional first period class, sophomores saw the talent show in the auditorium. Although the hour-long spectacle was well received by the tenth graders, their polite handclaps contrasted with the cheers and spontaneous uprisings among the junior-senior audience that greeted the second performance. This latter group welcomed the verbal sallies of M.C. Jim Jackson with unrestrained delight, and squealed approval of their more talented classmates.

In the afternoon Queen Jan Madland and Marshal Don Breit were successively crowned, congratulated, photographed, and paraded before enthusiastic students, proud parents, and tolerant citizens. Later, in the evening, an aroused Warrior football team ground out five touchdowns and an equal number of extra points to defeat Sioux City Central, 35-0. A light mid-game rain shower dampened, but did not detract from the Warrior band's halftime performance; fireworks flashed and banged as anticipated. Still later, the royal group and celebrants met at the Arkota ballroom for dancing until midnight.

On this and succeeding pages, pictures of O.L.D., 1961 version, may help you to recapture the mood of the great day.

"It's us."

Don and Jan stop long enough during the parade to have a picture taken.

Queen Jan gives the captains, Cliff Hammers and LeRoy Halstenson, the game football with a cheerleader's "Let's win."

After the coronation, everyone pushes into the Cafe to congratulate the Royalty.

Jim Brix asks questions of the royal party before the kickoff.

During the drizzling rain and exciting game, the Royalty has a chance to sit down and relax.

Student Talent Provides

"Grab this, friends," commented Jim Jackson, M.C.

(1) Harmonairs Paul Van Der Schaaf, Dennis Reppe, Dave MacNally, and Dick Knowles harmonize on "Eveline."

(2) Shari Bauer, Nancy Olhausen, Diane Main, Peg Vander Ploeg, Ann Evans, and Becky Syverson create a mood routine to the "Peter Gunn" music.

(3) Blending voices to "Never on Sunday" are Sherry Davis, Meech Nadeau, Judy Erickson, and Susan Everist.

(4) The Trends, Dave Swart, Terry Roe, Greg Weeg, and Bill Howard, swing with "Wheels."

(5) Glenda Jorgensen teaches scales to her doll, singing "Do Re Mi."

Gamut of Entertainment

(6) Sandy Schuh transported us to "South Pacific."

(7) Our talent show M.C., Jim Jackson, amused us continuously with his remarks.

(8) The Lamplighters, Paula McKean, Betsy Jordan, Jan Madland, Cherie Overland, Linda Muff, Mary Fuller, Marilyn Docter, and Lori VanVleet, crooned "Ukelele Love."

(9) Pantalooned Byrean Blacksmith and Dick Knowles, in top hat, recalled showboat days on the Mississippi when they sang "Make Believe."

(10) Bonita Kendall sang of "A Summer Place."

(11) Dennis Reppe ponders the joys of "Standing on the Corner."

(12) Christy Farkas danced a mechanical doll routine.

Andrea Richardson Voted 1962 Sweetheart at Dramatic Club Ball

In a homeroom assembly for all students, the Dramatic Club presented Sweetheart candidates Andrea Richardson, senior; Jan Yeager, junior; and Jean Delbridge, sophomore, on February 5. The comely candidates, borne in a Venetian gondola, emerged from a Tunnel of Love before the approving spectators. Their exit proved to be too much for the equipment; the rope used to haul the boat broke, stranding the candidates midstage.

Balloting at the ball, held at the Arkota, February 9, disclosed Andrea Richardson to be 1962 Sweetheart. Jane Bruns presented Andrea with the traditional Sweetheart locket in an intermission ceremony. Once again the seniors preserved an almost unbroken tradition of electing their Sweetheart candidate.

Students Swing at Holiday Dance

The annual College Club Formal is to WHSers what holly and ivy are to the holiday season. Students and alums attended the dance, held at the Arkota ballroom December 26, 1961. These candid pictures, taken at the dance, tell of the good time everyone had listening and dancing to the music of the All-Stars.

Hi-Y Carnival Rates High With Students

The yearly Hi-Y Carnival attracted junior and senior high student crowds both Friday and Saturday, January 26 and 27. Traditional side-shows gave study-weary WSHSers an opportunity to relax after first semester examinations. Sixteen local Hi-Y groups selected Susan Hine, senior; Jan Skattum, junior; and Val Nohlgren, sophomore, for 1962 Hi-Y Queen candidates. Susan Hine was named queen as the result of a vote conducted among the revelers.

Three singing groups entertained their admirers at the talent show. They were the Pendletons — Joel Engelland, Jim Early, Pat Hauswald, and Bob Crandall; Skip (Engle) and Wayne (Tschudy); and the Thinking Man's Three — Phil Person, Bob Wilson, and Butch Noteboom. Mike Goodroad MC'd the show.

The Jims (Brix and Jackson) presented the Roaring Twenties watershow; later, the precision routines of the Synchronettes, swimming to the harmonies of "The Magnificent Seven" and "Smile," thrilled water sports fans.

Boys Enjoy Special Privileges

By a coincidence involving the calendar, Spinster candidates for two seasons are pictured in the 1962 Warrior.

Underclassmen

Sharon Howe, Secretary, Dave Arneson, Treasurer, Rich Harris, Vice-president, and Chuck DeGroot, President, lead junior activities.

Junior Class Elects Officers in November

Felix Schwartz advises the junior class

Members of the junior class selected Chuck DeGroot, Rich Harris, Sharon Howe, and Dave Arneson as president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer respectively to serve them. The officers' main duty is to plan a junior class party.

Juniors spend much time preparing for their senior year. They take several tests, including the Kuder Preference Record and the Iowa Test of Educational Development. They may also take the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test or the General Aptitude Test Battery if they so desire. In addition many students assume positions of responsibility in various clubs and activities.

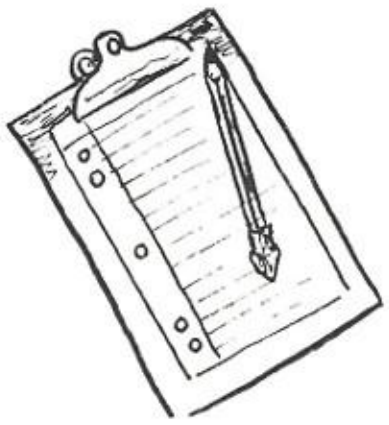
Sophomores Choose Gail and Rich "Typicals"



The sophomore class selects two typical representatives from a group of ten candidates. Gail Ihle and Rich Stevenson, who were chosen "most typical" this year, are pictured below doing something typical, reading an Orange and Black in the Snack Bar.

Actually the title "typical" is misleading, since all of the nominees are outstanding in their class. A better description, perhaps, might be that all these friendly sophomores are what WSHS would like every sophomore to be.

Rich Stevenson and Gail Ihle

Typical Candidates Mull Future

Pat Yeager and Mike Hopp work math problems together.

Pine Ridge Pep Club presents pow-wow for public between halves.

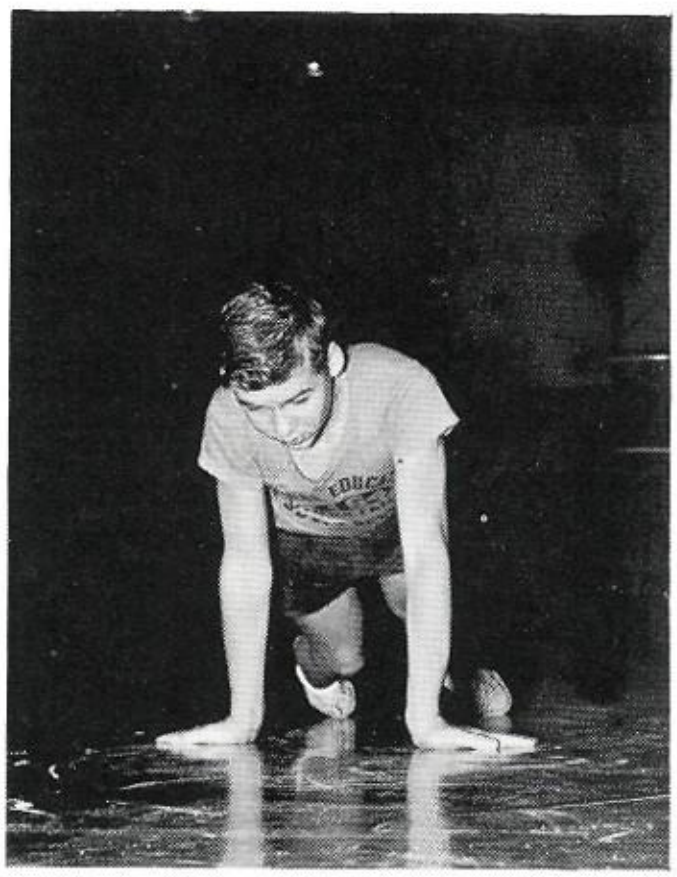
WSHS students who worked at the State "B" tournament enjoyed cheers led by the Pine Ridge "Thorpes" cheerleaders.

Varied Activities Liven School Year

Duane Raanes gives smiling service with each full tank.

Newcomers, Sophs, and Seniors Lend Flavor to School Routine

Miss Davies, registrar, counsels a newcomer to WHS.



"I'm asking my dad to vote Republican next year. This physical fitness program isn't for me."

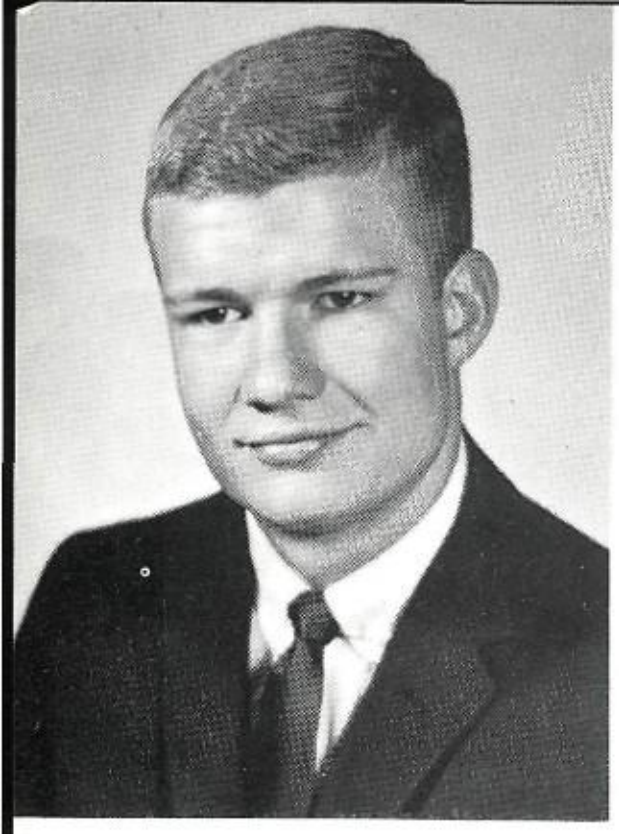
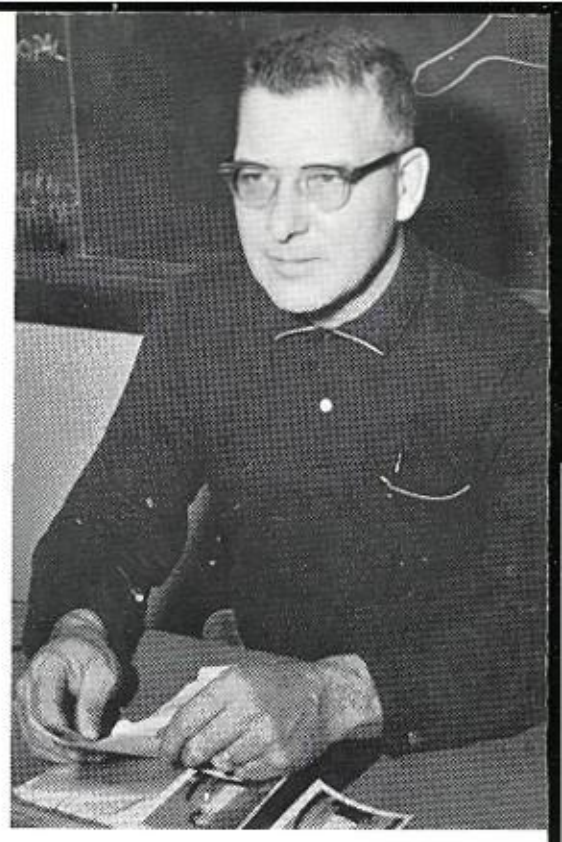
Activities



Producing a good yearbook is a complex job, requiring several months of exhaustive effort in taking pictures, writing copy, identifying pictures, proofreading, and meeting printer's deadlines. Much of the work is routine and drudgery, but once the sections begin to take shape, we realize that we've created something original.

The staff and our adviser, Paul Graves, hope that you enjoy this annual as much as we enjoyed compiling it for you.

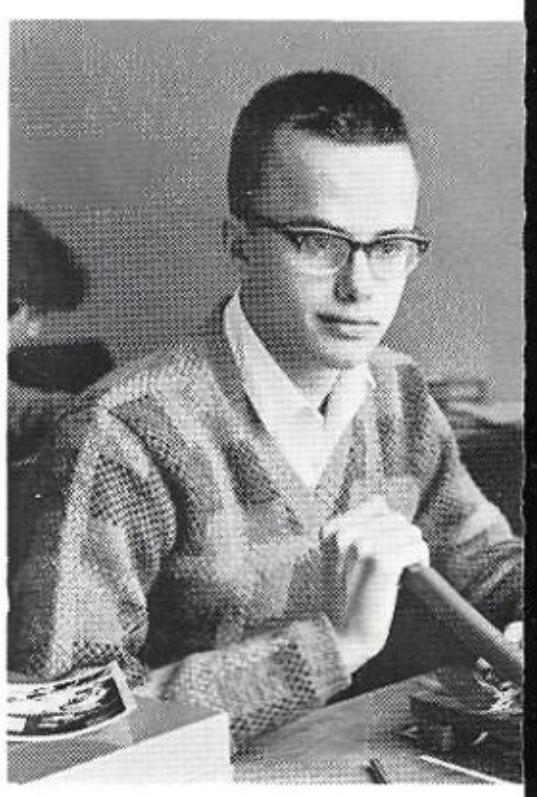


Jim Jackson, Editor

W. P. Graves, Adviser and Photographer

Warrior Staff

Typists: Char Tschetter, Rebecca Wieme, and Connie Chester.



Jim Early writes sports copy

Linda Eakes heads the Faculty section.

Making a Yearbook Is Challenging and Fun

Mary Crandall works with Linda on Faculty.

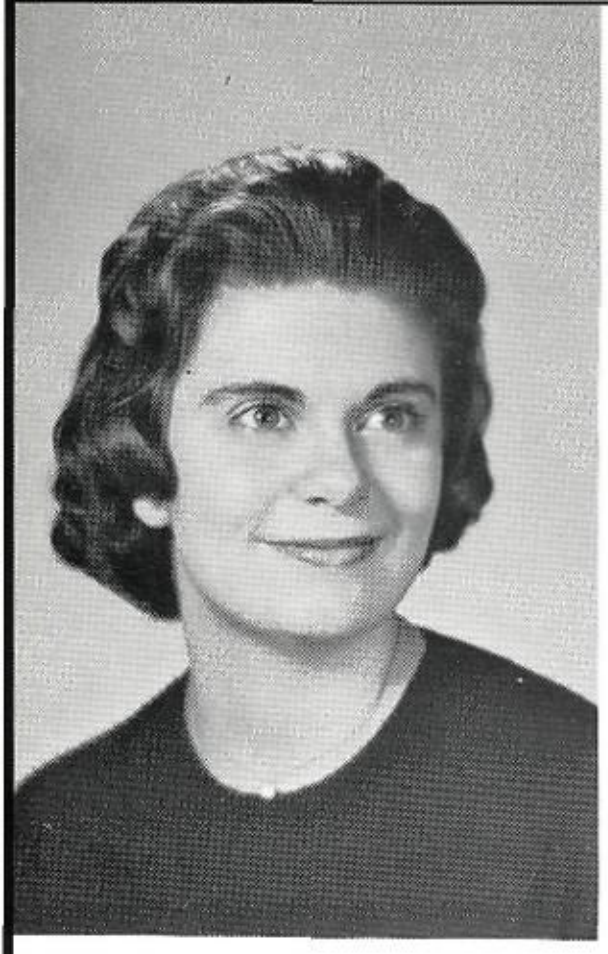
Talented Don Kavanaugh does all the art work.

O&B Staff Produces All-American Newspaper

A newspaper reflects the personality of a school, and WSHS is admirably mirrored by its commendable weekly publication, the Orange and Black.

Students on the O&B staff expend hours of time and effort to meet their deadlines; usually the paper appears on Friday.

The O&B, supervised by Miss Lorraine Norman, has earned All-American ratings consistently.



Sandi Evans, first semester editor

Grace Nelson, second semester editor

W. E. McKean, columnist and photographer, loads film holders.

Miss Lorraine Norman, adviser, checks picture submitted to the Orange and Black Office.

First semester assistant editors, Ruth Van Demark, Cheryl Hanson, Carolyn Smith, and Grace Nelson look over past issues of the Orange and Black.

O&B Office Hums Constantly

Barb Andersen, Betsy Turnbull, Rick Fee, Ruth Van Demark, second semester assistant editors, check layouts for the next issue of the Orange and Black.

Cathy Ulven sets the type for a newspaper column.

Eric Erickson, sports editor, sorts the latest edition.

Barb Andersen lays out next edition of O&B.

CHIPS Features Student Writings

Students may demonstrate their creative ability by writing for Chips, Washington High School's literary magazine. Photographers and artists may also present pictures for consideration.

Mrs. Shirley Moore advises the Chips staff.

Carol Oksol, Editor

Mrs. Shirley Moore, adviser, scans manuscripts.

Patsy Talley, art editor, analyzes art work.

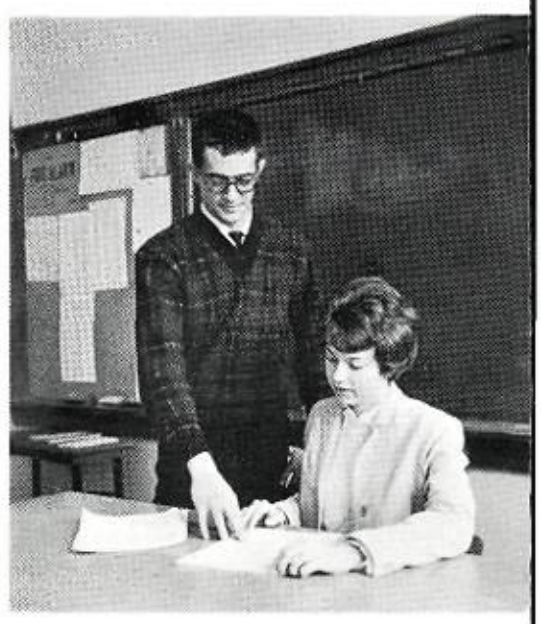
Tom Lavin, Grace Nelson, sales managers, go over sales progress.



Quill and Scroll Honors High School Journalists

Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists, was organized for the purpose of encouraging and rewarding individual student achievements in journalism and school publications.

Membership is selective. They must be in the upper third of their class and must have done superior work in some phase of journalism.

The local chapter meets once a year in the spring for the express purpose of initiating new members and electing officers. Miss McQuillen advises this club.

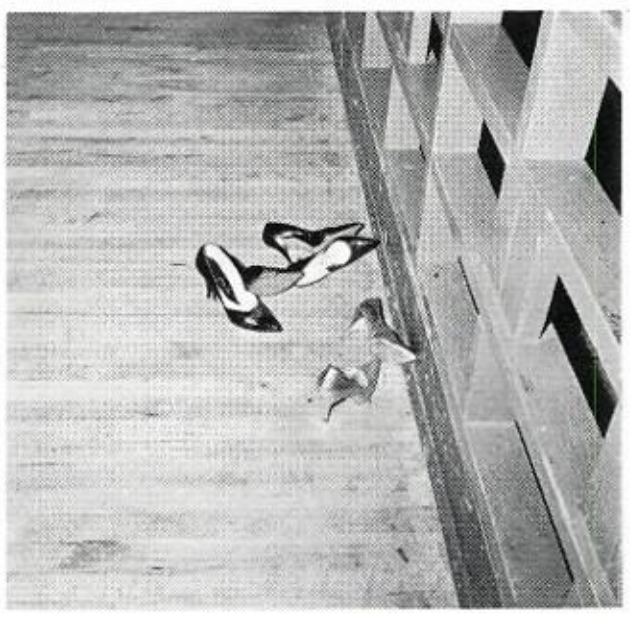
The main project of this group is College Day. This year Dr. Jeschke of Sioux Falls College was guest speaker; representatives from colleges throughout the Midwest were here to assist. College Club also sponsors a Christmas formal.

Mr. Nelson is the club's adviser.

College Club board members at right are: Dick Knowles, Chuck Schroyer, Jim Adams, Bob Friess, Jan Madland, LeRoy Halstenson, Barb Eggers, Bruce Halverson.

College-bound Students Find College Club Helpful

All students enjoy attending College Days and the annual Christmas formal.



A Squad: Barb Andersen, head cheerleader; Barb Eggers, Jan Madland, Maria Angelis, Susan Hine, and Jan Gilbert.

Cheerleaders Boost School Spirit

Vim, vigor, and vitality are three words which well describe Washington High's cheerleaders. They pledge themselves to be good representatives of the school and to encourage school spirit at games and pep rallies.

Each year the student body elects the following year's B squad. They are initiated at the annual spring picnic.

The cheerleaders practice each Wednesday during 6th period and whenever necessary. Sharon Gilbert is their new adviser this year.

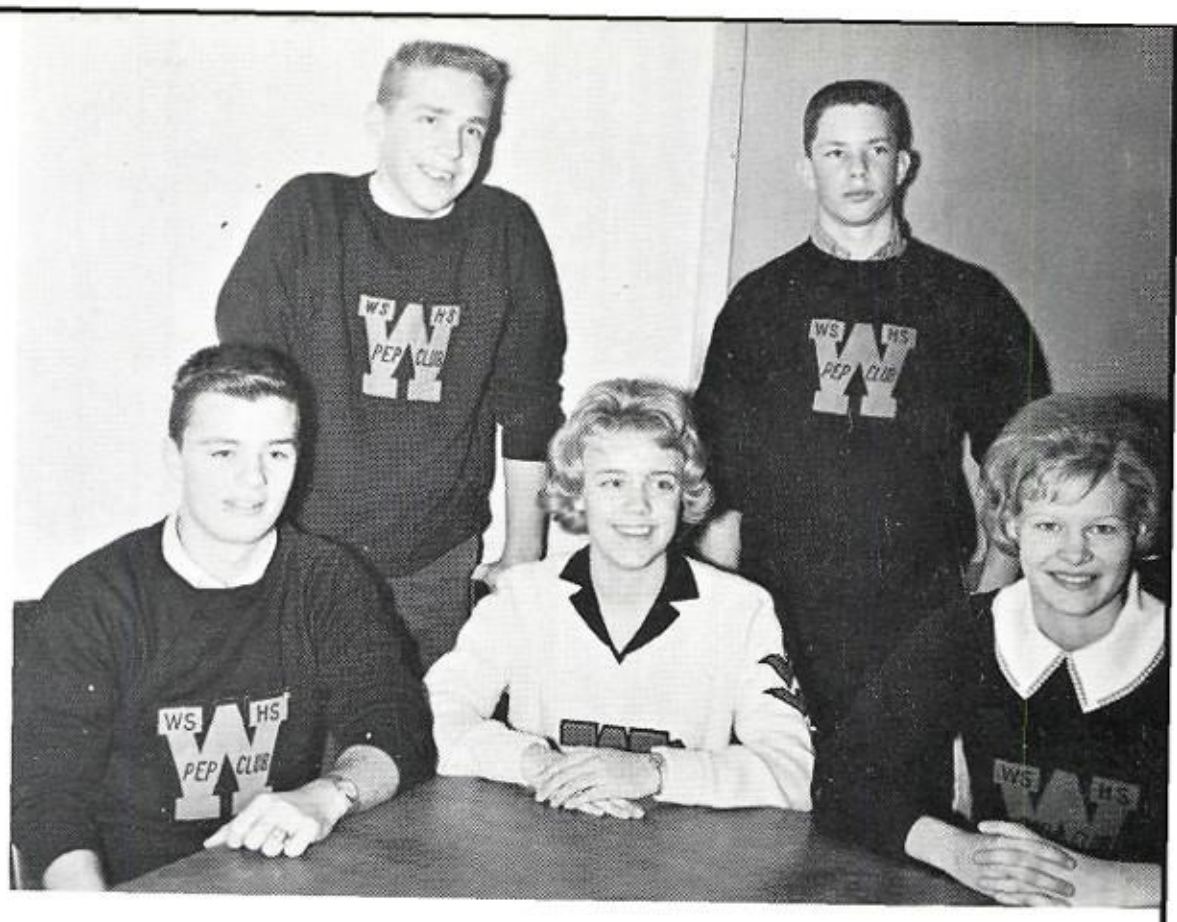
B Squad: Peggy Vander Ploeg, Ginger Hovik, Cathy Ulven, Jan Skattum, Gail Adams, and Jan Yeager.

Pep Club Boast Record Membership

Maintaining school spirit and assisting cheerleaders at various games are the chief objectives of Pep Club.

Over 400 members participate in the club's activities. Pep rallies to arouse spirit are held preceding many games. The card section, a new addition to Pep Club, was organized this year.

Keith Morrill is the adviser for Pep Club.



Board members are: Ed Arshem, Bruce Halverson, Barb Andersen, Mike Faragher, and Jeri Madland. Sue Skarda is not pictured.

Twirlers Complement WSHS Band

Agility, poise, rhythm, and talent are the main requirements for twirlers.

These six girls lead the Washington High School band during every parade, as well as performing during halftime at basketball and football games, entertaining during the Municipal Summer Band Concerts, and twirling at the Sioux Falls Mardi Gras.

To become a twirler one must try out before Mr. Foss and experienced twirlers. They are judged for talent and poise and then given the opportunity to march with the Band.

Nancy Olhausen, Judy Aksland, Karen Bates, Renee Reade, Bev Wieczorek, and Jan DeVaney, head twirler.

Washington High Steppers Organized This Year

The Washington High Steppers, a new club this year, was created to promote more school spirit and allow a larger number of students to participate during the games.

Time and practice are the main elements needed by the group. The meetings are held once every week, but the captains have executive meetings prior to these. Before the performances, the Steppers practice every morning in the gym.

During the year, the Steppers perform at six games, plus any other engagements which are offered to them.

Mr. Morrill is the club's sponsor.

Several formations are presented at half-time shows.

Monogram Members Plan a New Constitution

Monogram Club was organized to create a better relationship among the athletes at WSHS. Any boy who wins a monogram is automatically eligible for membership. To do this, they must either be on the basketball team, a senior football player, or earn a certain number of points in track.

The Monogram dance highlights the club's activities. They also sponsor a social hour, and are framing a constitution at their monthly meetings this year. Each member can be identified on game days by his white sweater with the WSHS monogram.

Wally Diehl, assisted by the coaches, is the adviser of the club.

Monogram Club members are, Row 1: Phil Person, Steve McGreevy, Vice-president, Larry Brunick, President, Bob Friess, Don Breit, Secretary-treasurer, Duke Papas, Mike Burleigh, Rod Steele. Row 2: Cliff Hammers, LeRoy Halstenson, Brian Peterson, Jim Cindrich, Gary Swain, Lloyd Schrader, Terry Comstock. Row 3: Steve Nord, Dennis Meyer, Denny Finch, Joe Ziegahn, Bob Fritzel, Phil Bendick, Wally Werner. Row 4: Jim Clark, Steve Boegler, Dave Arneson, Rich Harris, Tom Weber, Jim Breit, Dave Luymes. Row 5: Jim DeSaix, Jim Camp, Paul Evans, Terry Petheram, Fred McCurnin, Ray Horner, Gene Camp, Ray Harris. Not Pictured: Al Cooke, Bill Raker, Bonnie Row, Barry Rush, Frank Smith, Harold Witt, Les Brandhagen, Stan Brue, Jeff Clark, Charles Roberts, Jim Foster, Rich Olson.

SOUTH DAKOTA GIRLS STATE

Students Participate in Government Sessions

Recognition for scholastic achievement and leadership comes in various forms at WSHS. One of the greatest distinctions, however, comes with the opportunity to attend Girls' or Boys' State. This annual event convenes on the campus of a South Dakota college in early summer.

WSHS chose nine girls and thirty-four boys last year to attend the sessions at Aberdeen and Mitchell.

Mock legislators studied procedures of the government. The groups elected a full slate of officers to lead the sessions and to get an even closer look at the way the government operates.

Various business organizations in Sioux Falls sponsored students, and the delegates reported to their sponsors after returning.

Synchronettes Entertain With a Spring Water Show

Officers: Jan Yeager, Treasurer; Barb Eggers, Secretary; Carolyn Smith, President; Maryanne Bim, Historian; and Sallie Bailey, Vice-president.

Synchronettes provide an opportunity for girls who enjoy synchronized swimming to practice together and display their talent at a water show held each spring. Each team practices twice a month at the Crippled Children's Hospital.

Their activities include teaching crippled children how to swim, participation in Hi-Y swim meets, and sponsoring a social hour.

The girls' new adviser this year is Sharon Gilbert.

N.H.S. Has a Selective Membership

National Honor Society was organized to provide a national basis for the recognition of high school students of exceptional ability. Members are selected on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

The WSHS chapter of the society holds an initiation banquet at the end of the first semester and sponsors a breakfast followed by an assembly in the spring.

Muriel Jones, Effie Benson, Harold Conradi, Shirley Moore, Marian Pfaff, Dorothea Riter, Orland Rothlisberger, and Sharon Thormodson are the club's advisers.

Hard work, a quick mind, patience, and lots of spare time are some of the requirements for a team debater. All beginning debaters are eligible, but only those who are willing to work hard become members of the Team Debate squad.

These go-getters meet every sixth period with Mr. Parlet.

"All work and no play makes for a dull Team Debate class" is their motto, so they schedule a number of trips each year which take them as far away as Lincoln, Nebraska. Competition and travel combine to make our debaters skillful speakers and mature individuals.

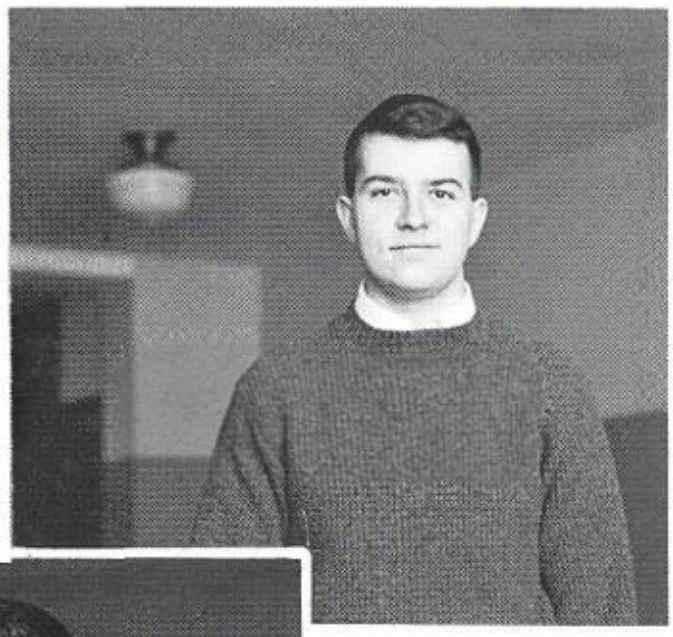
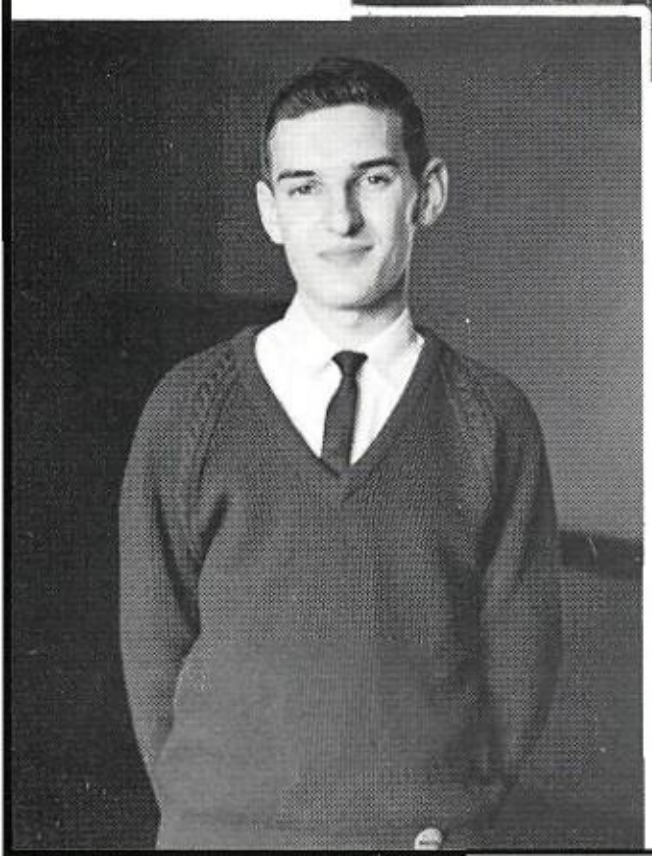
WSHS Sends Two to State Declam Contest

Rick Fee, Dramatic



Sharon Bennett, Poetry

Mike Goodroad, Oratory



Betsy Jordan, Humorous

Washington High School has many excellent speakers within its walls, and the declamation contest each year gives these students a chance to prove their ability. Four areas are available to the students. These are humorous, poetry, dramatic, and oratory.

Various teachers coach the students in their spare time and, as a result of their efforts, Sharon Bennet and Mike Goodroad took part in the state declam contest and came through with flying colors.

Whimsical Play Wins Superior Rating

Tennessee Williams' "Case of the Crushed Petunias" gave L. R. Kremer's dramatics classes the opportunity to display their talents before two school assemblies in January. After this rehearsal, the troupe journeyed to Mitchell and participated in the State One-Act Play Contest. For this they were awarded a superior rating by the judges. Jane Bruns was student director.

National Forensic League Honors Debaters

All persons who have taken beginning debate are eligible for membership in the National Forensic League, provided that they have earned twenty-five points or more. To earn these points, a debater participates in tournaments, speaks in competition, or addresses an assembly with at least twenty-five adults present.

When the prospective N.F.L. member reaches twenty-five points, he receives a pin. As more points are accumulated, jewels are added to give the pin more significance.

Mr. Robert Parlet is adviser of N.F.L.

The Palms demonstrate Spanish dances

Dean Kubicek, President

Lucy Rule, Secretary

Spanish Club Hosted Dancers

Spanish Club affords students the opportunity not found in the classrooms to increase their understanding of our Latin American neighbors and Spain.

Professional dancers performed some Latin dances at one meeting this year. The annual Spanish Banquet was held in the spring. In addition, the club has presented various speakers and slides.

Spanish Club meets once a month. Miss McQuillen and Mrs. Leisinger are the advisers.

The Mardi Gras Highlights French Club Activities

Peggy O'Donnell, President

Dick Knowles, Vice-president

Carol Brown, Secretary

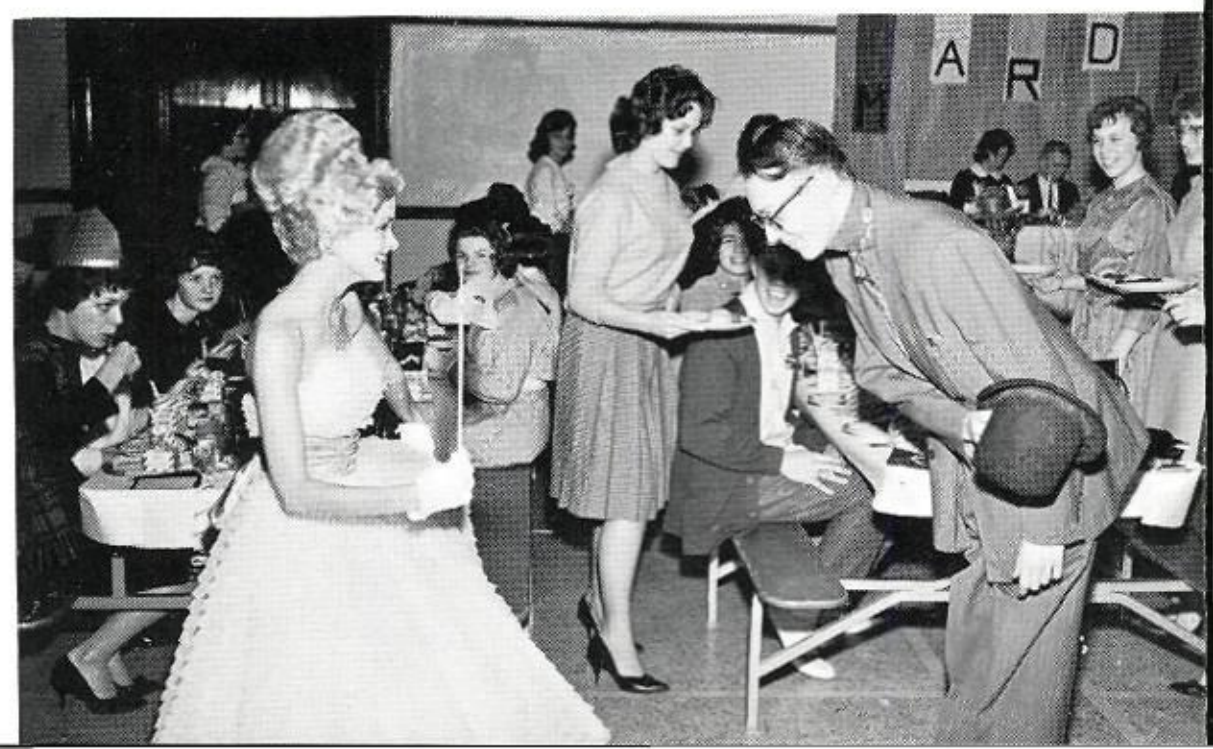
Sharon Howe, Treasurer

French Club stimulates interest in the language, culture, and customs of France.

The highlight of the year's activities is the Mardi Gras. At this time, a king and queen are chosen. Besides this, a French choir was organized this year. At Christmas, members participate in a joint meeting of language clubs. During the year they have slides and speakers.

The organization meets once a month under the supervision of Mrs. Ronan.

Some members wear fancy costumes to the annual French Banquet.



Authentic Roman togas created genuine Latin atmosphere at the banquet.

Latin Banquet Celebrated on Ides of March

Latin Club, organized to promote greater appreciation of the customs and culture of the Roman people, meets three times each semester. The Aediles who are elected to represent each Latin class meet whenever necessary.

This year, to the probable consternation of J. Caesar, the Banquet fell on the Ides of March. A joint Christmas season meeting with the other language clubs promoted foreign language interests. The local club hosted the State Latin Club Convention.

Miss Skaff and Mrs. Skaarhaug are the advisers for this club.

Stephanie Springer, Vice-president

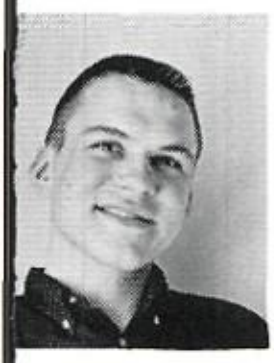
Bart Friedhoff, President

Pam Nelson, Secretary-treasurer

German Club Participated in the Joint Christmas Meeting

German Club gives German students a chance to practice their speaking abilities outside of class. In order to belong, a person must have a speaking knowledge of German.

Their activities are varied. Club meetings are held once a month. Most of their speakers are exchange students. Use of television programs, such as panel groups, offers these students the opportunity to talk completely in German. At Christmas they hold a joint meeting which includes all language clubs. An annual banquet is usually given in May. Miss Riter is German Club's adviser.



Andrey Blumberg, President

Waltrud Schwab, Secretary

Mary Solberg, Treasurer

Bob Hurwitz, Vice-president, leads singing at a German Club meeting.

Biology Students See Slides

Biology Club is made up of any students who have had biology, a cabinet with two representatives from each class, and the officers.

Various doctors and technicians speak at the meetings. Slides were shown on operations and wildlife adventures in Alaska.

Mr. Thurston is the adviser.

Karen Cannegieter and Lynn Cornelius dissect a frog.

Science Club Launched a Balloon

Besides stimulating interest in science, Science Club provides a means of financing individual projects for science fairs and various exhibitions.

Its activities this year centered around launching a balloon. This program was set up and supervised by Raven Industries of Sioux Falls. The club had many guest speakers, including Mr. Don Piccard, a nationally noted balloonist. Slides pertaining to various fields of science were shown.

The club meets once a month under the supervision of Charles Sidlo.

Science Club officers are, standing: Dean Kubicek, Treasurer, Jim Brix, Vice-president, Dave Swart, President. Seated: John Early, Betsy Jordan, Secretary.

Mr. Muller explained atomic fallout at one meeting.

Young Medics Encourage Medical Careers

One of the newer clubs is concerned with the study of medicine and biology. It was formed last year by interested students with the assistance of the club's present adviser, George Willis.

Discussions, films, tours, and occasional speakers composed the programs for 1962. A special feature this year was a joint meeting with Future Nurses Club, during which members mulled the availability of scholarships and loans.

Mr. Willis, Mary Borman, John Shepard, Keith Knoff, Jim Adams, and Henry Epstein inspect the micro-projector.

Red Cross Assists Handicapped

Donna Marquardt, Betsy Turnbull, and Lorie Hassenstein.

The affiliate chapter of the Red Cross at Washington High School is mainly a service club.

Besides operating their usual program at the Crippled Children's Hospital, they began a new project at the Veterans' Hospital this year. Fifteen members work in the voluntary Nurses' Service after attending preparatory classes. These trainees are assigned definite duty schedules in the Vets' Hospital. While on duty they wear blue-and-white uniforms.

Gold pins are awarded to members for hours accumulated in voluntary service.

Barbara White and Muriel Nuffer sponsor this organization.

Future Nurses Sponsor Delegates to State Convention

One of the clubs concerned with the medical profession, the Future Nurses Club, encourages members to enter the nursing field.

The program each year is varied, with such attractions as tours, films, speakers, and visits with prominent medical people of Sioux Falls.

Each year a state convention is held and this year members elected several girls to attend the meet at Howard, South Dakota.

This year the club's officers were: Charyl Swanson, President; Doris Halstead, Vice-president; Byrean Blacksmith, Secretary; and Kim Kearney, Treasurer.

Barbara White represents Washington High School on the advisory board.

WSHS Club Urges Pursuit of Teaching Career

Students planning a teaching career may take tours, discuss colleges, or listen to speakers, at any one of the monthly meetings of the Future Teachers Club.

Advised by Miss Carlton, Mrs. Pfaff, and Miss Nuffer, members attend the workshops at South Dakota State College and develop other service projects which will help them in planning their careers.

Dianne Bott, Donna Hansen, and Cheryl Pittenger, officers of Future Teachers Club.

F.B.L.A. Sell WSHS Notepaper

Students organized the Future Business Leaders of America of Washington High School to promote interest in business occupations.

One of the projects of the F.B.L.A. this year was selling originally designed WSHS notepaper to the students.

The annual slumber party at the State Theatre attracts all members.

Miss Geraldine Molseed supervises the club.

Officers: Mary Jo Long, Bonny Delzer, Rita Jones, and Sharon Anderson.

Home Economics Members Study Personal Grooming

Home Economics Club enables girls to further their education in the fields of personal grooming and service activities. Business meetings are held three times each semester, and in addition to these, they have special programs. One of the programs was a demonstration given by Mrs. Moreed on "Make-up for Teenagers."

Miss Frease is the adviser for Home Economics Club.

Home Economics Club officers inspect the new coffee dispenser in the cafeteria. They are: Sandra Gerry, Vice-president; Elma Arneson, Secretary-treasurer; and Nancy Nesthus, President.

Art Club Bought Paintings for the School

Members listen intently to a lecture by architect Ed Griffin. Paintings in the background are by students.

Officers are: Bob Fritzel, Vice-president; Cheryl Pittenger, Secretary-treasurer; Don Kavanaugh, President; and Joe Ziegahn, Sgt.-at-arms.

Members of Art Club benefit from information learned about art and its different phases.

This year, they purchased paintings for our school. They sponsored a social hour, and will send one member to the Fine Arts Conference in Yankton. Besides these achievements, they hold either a banquet or party each year.

Mr. Shermoe is the club's supervisor.

I.R.C. Sponsors Foster Child

To discuss world problems and to help promote good will are the purposes of the International Relations Club.

I.R.C. promotes good will by sponsoring an Italian foster child, Fortunato Di Mico, who is fifteen years old. Also, this year the I.R.C. began a program to seek a home in Sioux Falls for a foreign exchange student.

Inter-Club Council Regulates Y-Teen Activities

The Inter-Club Council is the nucleus of all Y-Teen club activities. The group consists of one representative elected from each club. They solve the many problems that arise, and supervise the club projects.

Council members meet every two weeks at the YWCA at a potluck supper. They held a smorgasboard for World Fellowship, and sponsored the Spinster Dance and joint Lenten services with the Hi-Y groups.

Anne Waugh is the adviser.

Hi-Y Cabinet Coordinates Hi-Y Club Activities

The Hi-Y Cabinet, organized to coordinate the activities of individual Hi-Y groups, consists of five senior members.

Some of their many activities this year included an all-school picnic, working at the new Great Plains zoo, holding Lenten services in the high school during Holy Week, selling Christmas trees, and sponsoring social hours and canteens to raise funds. A Hi-Y council and a disciplinary committee functioned this year also.

The Cabinet meets once a week. Joint meetings are held every two weeks. Jim Westby, YMCA counselor, is the adviser.

Hi-Y Cabinet members, Ray Horner, Jim Adams, Dick Clark, and Dave Swart, enjoy a game of pool at the "Y."

Student Librarians Donate Time

Accounting for the many books in the library and assisting students who use these books are the jobs of the student librarians.

These girls, advised by Miss Flint and Mrs. Hurst, work during their spare time, before and after school. This experience teaches them the library organization and the art of helping other students quickly and efficiently.

Students Probe Electronic Field

Mr. Hale, Mike Best, Lloyd Schrader, President; and Dave Van Veldhuizen.

Boys interested in electronic devices formed the Electronics Club mainly to exchange ideas about radio, television, and other related areas.

Directed by Mr. Gordon Hale, the boys meet monthly. Special meetings feature auctions which enable the members to buy or sell transmitters, amplifiers, and other parts. The auctions serve a double purpose by boosting attendance and by providing a source of money.

Kiwanis Club Hosts Top Students

Scholarship and leadership earn rewards in keeping with their excellence.

Each month, a senior boy, who shows evidence of leadership and whose scholarship is a matter of record, is chosen to represent the school at the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis Club.

The representative attends each luncheon and at the end of the month gives a speech to the Kiwanians about his impressions of the club gained during his visits.

World Affairs Discusses Current Events

Members enjoy discussing various topics at a potluck supper.

A sincere interest in current events and a desire to share information with others are two of the characteristics of the 40 members of World Affairs Club. This club was organized last year for students of World Affairs or debate classes.

Every two weeks the club meets for a morning discussion or a lecture. In October, the club had a banquet to celebrate United Nations Day.

Borghild Johnson is the adviser for World Affairs Club.

World Affairs officers are Betty Janssen, Corresponding secretary; Chuck DeGroot, Treasurer; Duke Papas, President, and Wally Doolittle, Vice-president.

Newcomers Club Welcomes New Students

Entering a new school, especially a large one, is difficult. The purpose of the Newcomers Club is to welcome new students from out-of-town and from other schools in Sioux Falls. For many years this objective has been carried out with the help of Mr. Don Jorgensen.

Special assistance was given this past year to Christiana Grossman, who traveled from Germany to live with a Sioux Falls family and attend school at WSHS.

Newcomers Club officers are: Bob Crandall, Julie Tilgner, and Byrean Blacksmith.

Employers and Parents Enjoyed the D.E.C.A. Banquet

Susan Fendrich, Vice-president; George Schaefer, Treasurer; Roger Christenson, President; Bob Jensen, Secretary.

Twenty-eight students are enrolled in a new course called Distributive Education. This national program combines classroom studies with on-the-job training in various fields of employment. Only seniors who maintain average or better grades may participate. They have the opportunity to earn while they learn.

A year ago, Glen McDougall helped these students organize the Distributive Education Club. In the spring they hold a banquet which is attended by both their parents and their employers.

Seated: Carol Oksol, Sally Cone and Betty Rohwer. Standing: Jim Jackson, president; Jane Bruns and Jim Pilcher.

Dramatics Club Sponsors Plays

Each year members of the Dramatics Club participate in the production of the school plays. Among their activities are set building, make-up, props, and ticket selling.

Mr. Donald Edison sponsors the group.

Thespians Boast Dramatic Artists

Twenty-five points earned in dramatic arts are required for membership in Thespians. This national honor society for dramatists awards points to students who act in plays or who help with the production. Points are awarded for each hour's work to students who help design sets and those who work back-stage.

Spring Play Thrills Audience

Dramatics students presented "The Legend of Lizzie" as the spring play of 1962. The plot revolved around Lizzie Borden who supposedly killed her parents with an ax. The unique set showed three stage areas at once. Stage lighting also added much to this suspense-filled drama. L. R. Kremer directed.

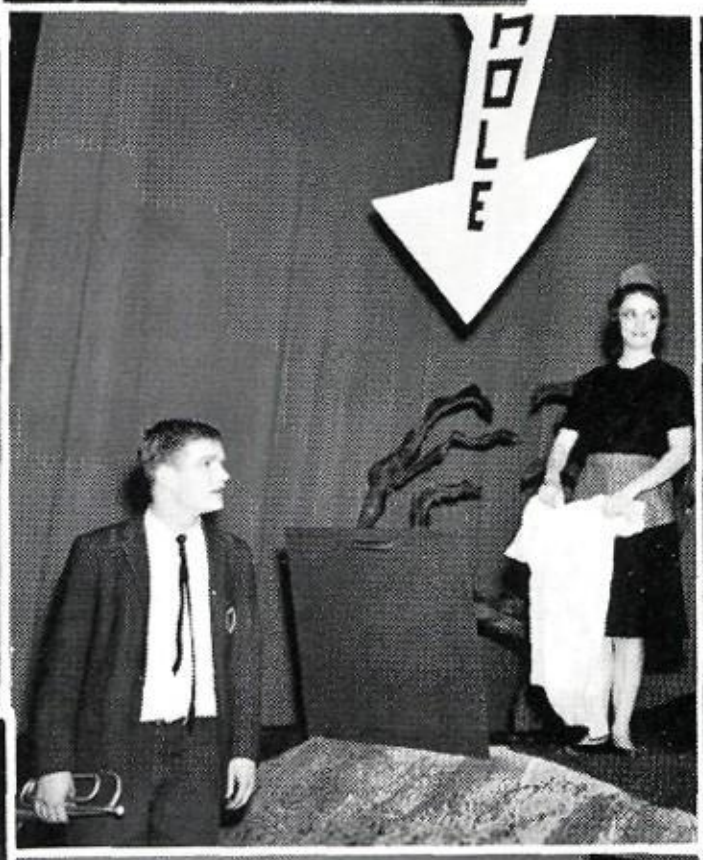
Comic-Satire Comes to WSHS

Play-goers were pleased with the new type of play given by WSHS students, "Dinny and the Witches."

This play combines comedy and satire with a philosophical theme. Jim Jackson played the part of Dinny Jones with professional quality and delighted all who attended. The witches, Carol Oksol, Dave Stokke, and Lee Crusinberry, turned in sparkling performances.



Young and Gay Hearts Capture Audience

The first Dramatics Club production gave the nostalgic reminiscences of Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough.

The central characters portray the two as nineteen-year-olds, embarking on a European trip in 1914. Two young men complicate the situation. Measles and a health inspector at docking time create problems.

Performances played to good crowds on three successive nights.

Spring Chorus Concert Featured a Civil War Theme

The Washington High School chorus presented two concerts during the school year. The first one, at Christmas, included such selections as "The Night Before Christmas" and "A Mighty Fortress is Our God." The other program, given in the spring, featured a Ballad of North and South.

The members and their director, Boyd Bohlke, work long and hard to prepare for these presentations. The boys' chorus, the girls' chorus and the mixed chorus practice on Tuesday evenings in addition to their work in class each day.

Band Participates in Dedication of Arena

Sioux Falls marked history this winter with the dedication of the new million dollar arena. The WSHS band was privileged to perform at this dedication. The band also represents the school at games, tournaments, parades, and other community events.

The members rehearse daily during first period under the direction of Mr. Ardeen Foss.

Students Compete for All-State Band

Each year band students in South Dakota vie for the honor of playing in the annual All-State Band concert.

After weeks and months of concentrated practice, the competitors are judged by districts. Later, the best players from these districts are chosen to play in All-State Band.

The concert this year was held at Deadwood, South Dakota.

Students Serve as Advisory Board for Band

Students who are elected by the band members to make decisions for the 180 piece Washington High School Band and to preside over its activities must have certain qualifications. These include leadership ability, responsibility, and interest in band policies.

The responsibilities of the band board involve acting for the band in accepting or rejecting invitations to perform, acknowledging praise and criticism, and representing the band in matters concerning its actions.

Orchestra Members Travel to Sioux City High Schools

The Washington Senior High Orchestra performs many musical programs throughout the year. The group, under the direction of Paul Fialkowski, provided music for the Orange Letter Day coronation, Baccalaureate, three high school and four junior high school concerts. Tours have taken them to Sioux City Central, Sioux City North, Huron High School, and Huron College.

Mr. Fialkowski directs the orchestra.

24 Attend All-State Orchestra

All-State Orchestra was held at Huron on November 17-18. Sioux Falls representatives traveled there by bus and were housed in private homes. After two days of practice with Marvin Rabin, the guest conductor, a concert was presented in the Huron Arena.

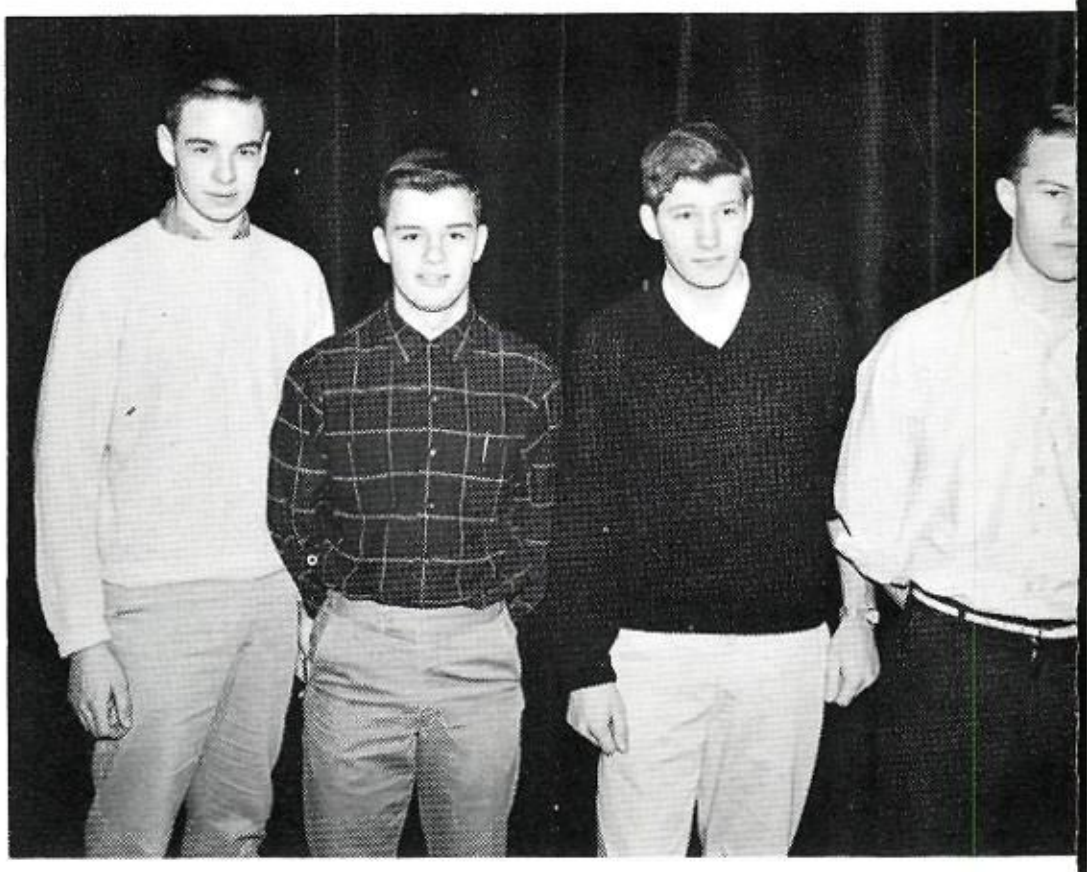
Future Engineers Join a National Society

The Washington chapter of the Junior Engineering and Technical Society, was organized this year. Sponsored by the engineering profession, it is a national organization. Its goal is to stimulate interest in engineering and applied science among high school students. It aids the student in discovering his own abilities, aptitudes, and interests in the field of science. JETS promotes good scholarship and provides students with a preview of the engineering and scientific professions.

Mr. Sidlo is the club's adviser.



Officers: Skip Spensley, Secretary; Ed Arshem, Vice-president; Dean Kubicek, President; Ralph Rosencrans, Treasurer.

15 Organize the Young Inventors Club

Young Inventors, a new club to WSHS this year, was organized by 15 boys who enjoy tinkering and experimenting with new ideas. Members are encouraged with the continuation of their ideas by providing group action and obtaining resource personnel and technical assistance.

During this first year many new ideas have been developed that appear worthy of pursuit. A constitution is being composed by the officers.

Mr. Hovland assists these boys.

Warriors Win Crown Again

The fact that Sioux Falls copped its ninth straight championship was not surprising, but the ease with which the Warriors won was completely unexpected.

Elmer Hansen's gang piled up 50½ points, far outdistancing runnerup Rapid City. Gaining victories for Sioux Falls were Jon Madland, high hurdles; Terry Engelland, low hurdles; Dan Westerlund, broad jump; and the half-mile relay foursome of Marv Boegler, Denny Neuharth, Bill Hahn, and John Odney.

The Warriors failed to place in only two events, the discus and the 880.

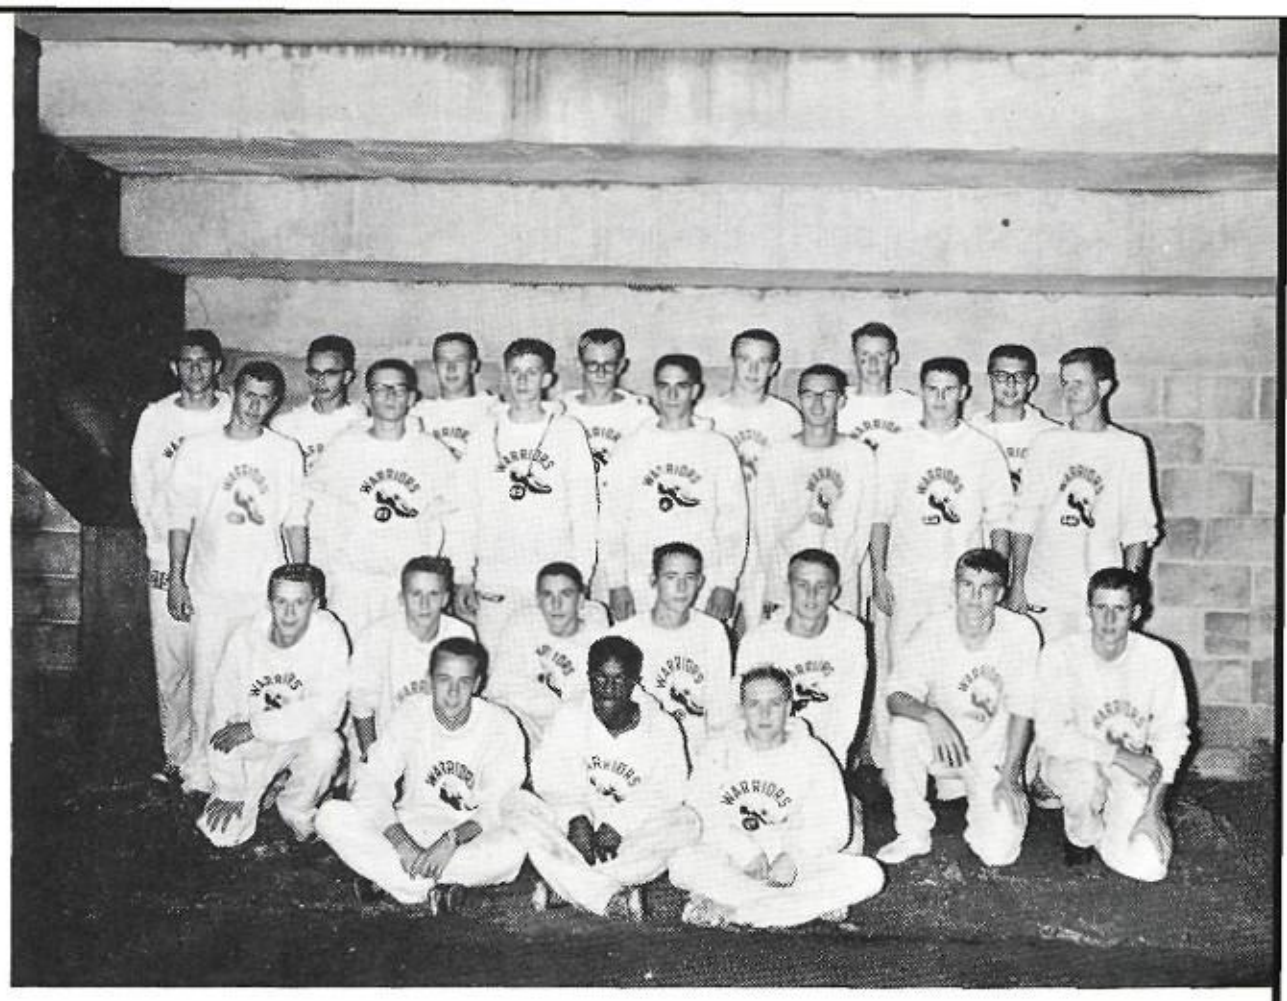
Cross Country Proves Grueling Sport

The boys out for cross country track will testify that the sport certainly is grueling. They spent their time running continually around the quarter-mile track for a variety of reasons. Some sought to reach a proficiency level great enough to win the four meets that they attended, while others worked to condition themselves for basketball. They not only run, but those interested in the field events may participate in them also.



Bottom row: Don Breit, Gene Coakley, Paul Simonson. Second row: Gene Camp, Jim Camp, Jim Zabel, Bob Fritzel, Kurt Anderson, Dave Arneson, Jim Peterson. Cindermen Prove Strongest In All Meets

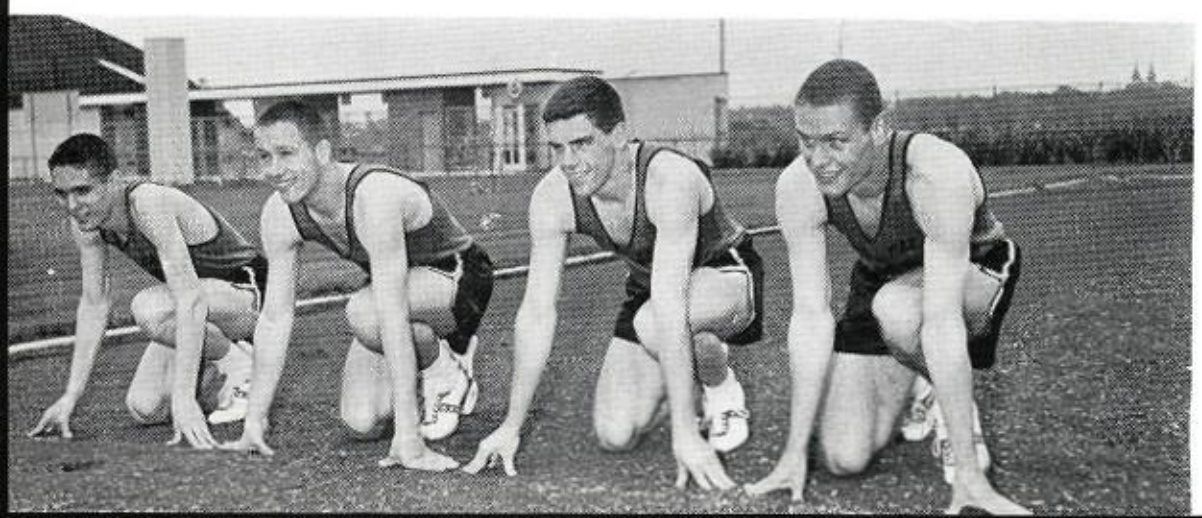
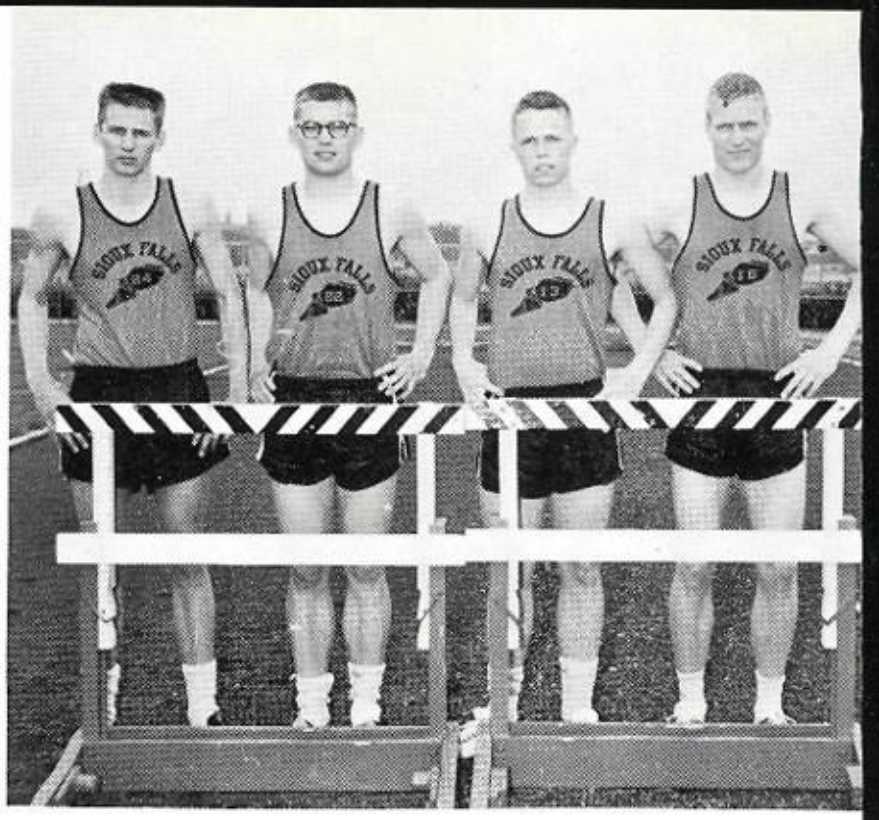
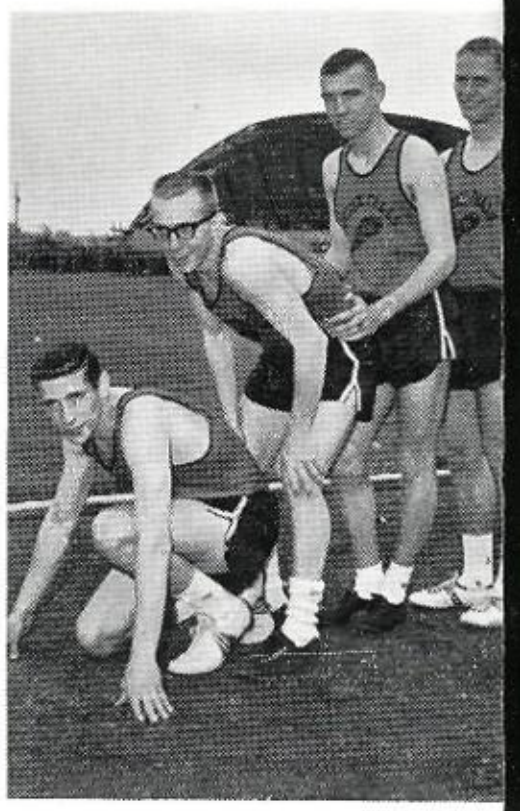
The Warrior sprint medley team composed of: John Odney, Steve Boegler, Bill Hahn, and Steve Nord turned in a creditable performance, taking second at the regional and state meets and third at the Dakota Relays.

Making up the two mile relay team are: Ray Harris, Stan Brue, Steve Nord, and Jim Breit. They placed first in several meets, including the Dakota Relays.



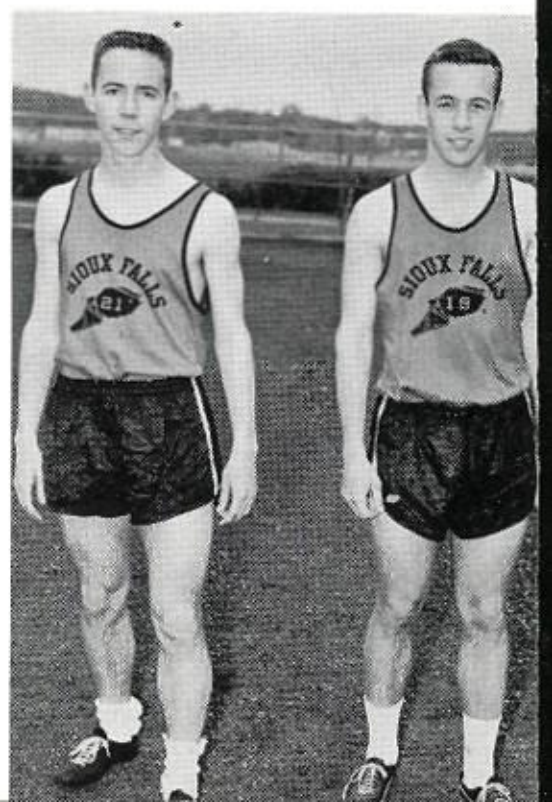


The Hurdlers shown are: Dale Jibben, Wally Werner, Terry Engelland, and Jon Madland. Werner placed first in high hurdles in the Dakota Relays, first in the regional meet with 15.6; second in the state meet. Madland placed second in the regional in both high and low hurdles and in the state took first in high hurdles with 15.5 and second in the lows. Engelland took first in the lows in both state and regional meets 20.8 and 20.5 respectively.



Jim Breit, Jim Cindrich, Ron Keith, and John Odney are the four Warriors who compose the mile relay team; they placed first at the Dakota Relays and second in both the regional and state meets.

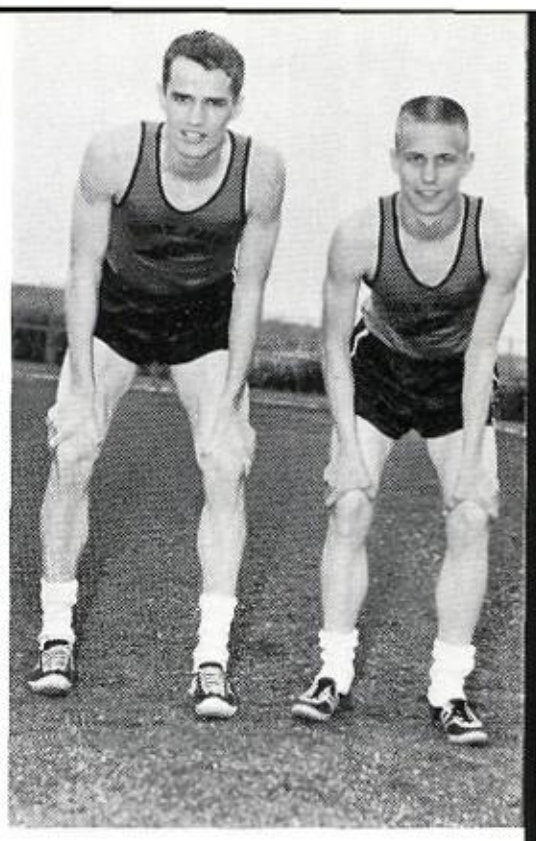
Bob Fritzel, left, and Don Breit, right, ran the mile. Don placed first in the regional with 4:42.5, fifth in the state, and third in the Dakota Relays. Bob took third in the regional.



Pictured are: Steve Boegler, Denny Neuharth, Bill Hahn, and John Odney, the four speedsters who composed the Warrior 440 and 880 relay teams. They took first in each at the Dakota Relays clocking 44.6 in the 440 and 1:31.8 in the 880. They placed first in the 880 with a 1:31.0 time in both the regional and state meets.

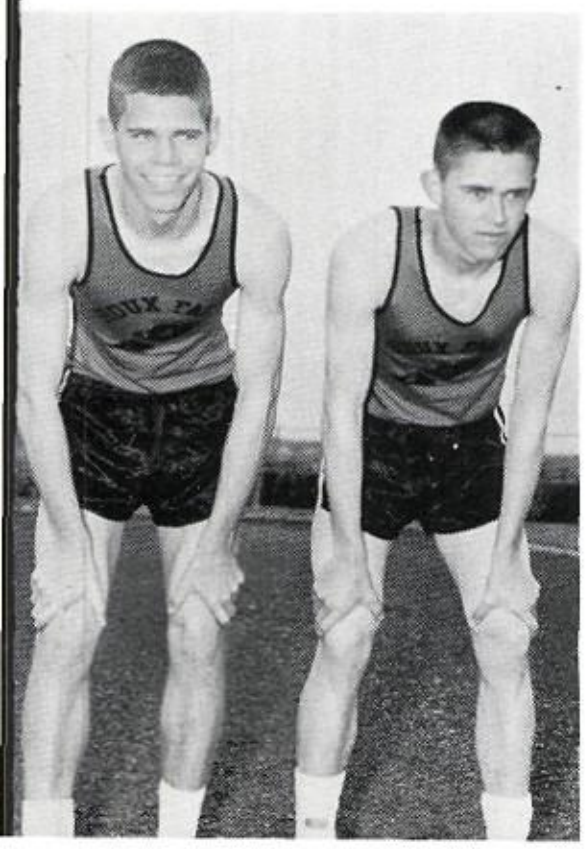
Field Events Had Slow Start in 1961

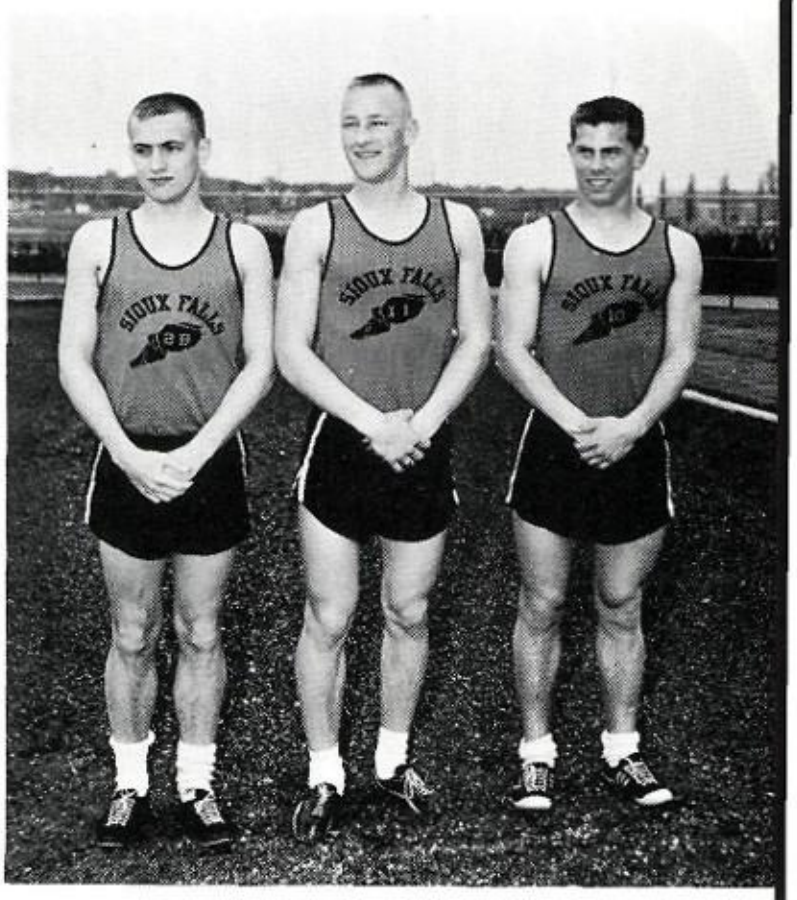
Warrior weight men shown are: Roger Engel, who took third in the discus in the regional meet; Mike Harris, who placed second in the regional meet shot put; Lyle Farrand, shot put third in the regional meet; Rich Harris; Bruce Roningen, who placed second in the regional meet discus; and Eldon Anderson, who placed fifth in the Dakota Relays and first in the regional meet with a put of 50'½" in the shot put.



Pictured at the right are: Warrior high jumpers Bill Willard and Kurt Anderson. Bill tied for first at the Howard Wood Relays, won undisputed first at the regional meet at Sioux Falls, and tied for third at the state meet at Aberdeen. Kurt took fourth in the regional meet.

Warrior broadjumpers are: Barry Rush, who placed first in the regional with a jump of 21' 1¼"; and Dan Westerlund, who took first in the Dakota Relays, the state meet (20' ¼"), and second in the regional meet.





Shown here are WSHS pole vaulters Don Foster, Ken Pauling, and Harold Witt. In the Dakota Relays Don and Harold tied for fifth. At the regional meet they again tied out, this time, at 11, for first, while Pauling took third. Foster finished the season with a tie for third in the state meet.

WSHS Golfers Sweep State Championship

The Washington High School golf team composed of Terry Comstock, Steve Fantle, Keel Coddington, and Al Cooke, took on all comers at the SDHSAA Golf Championship Playoff at Aberdeen, South Dakota, and came out on top. Terry Comstock (71-77), a junior, tied with Dave Hanten (78-70) of Huron for first in individual competition. His score, combined with Al Cooke's (74-81), also a junior, gave them first in team play by virtue of a six-stroke advantage over the Huron's twosome. Keel Coddington and Steve Fantle also placed high. These golfers are chosen from a large field of able golf enthusiasts after tough eliminations held locally. They represent the cream of the Washington High School golf crop.

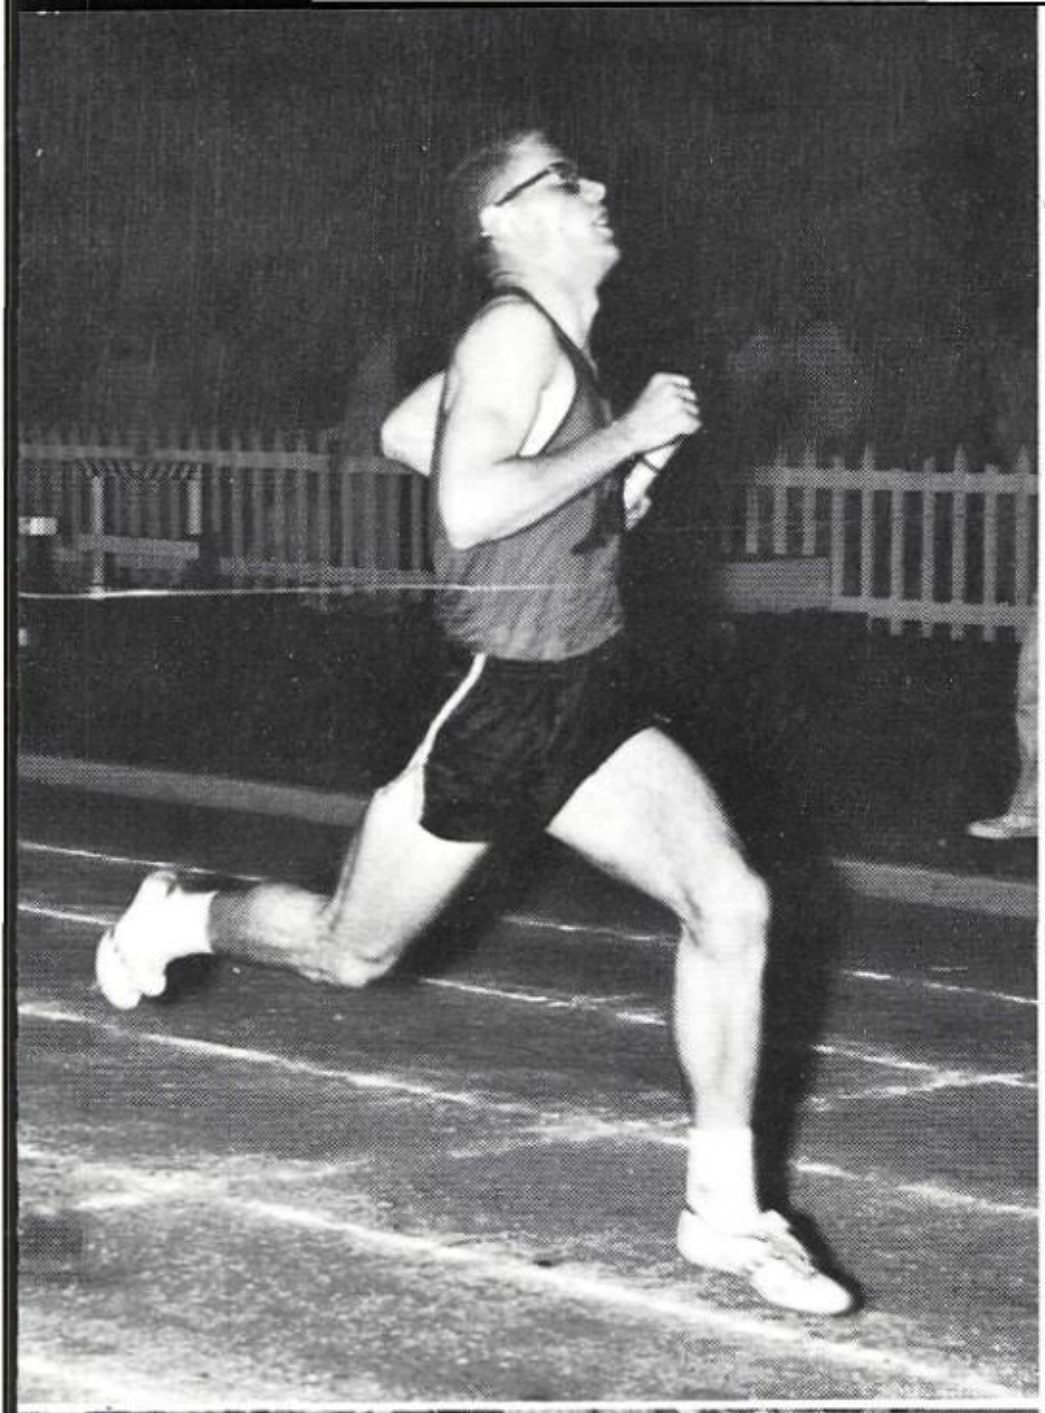
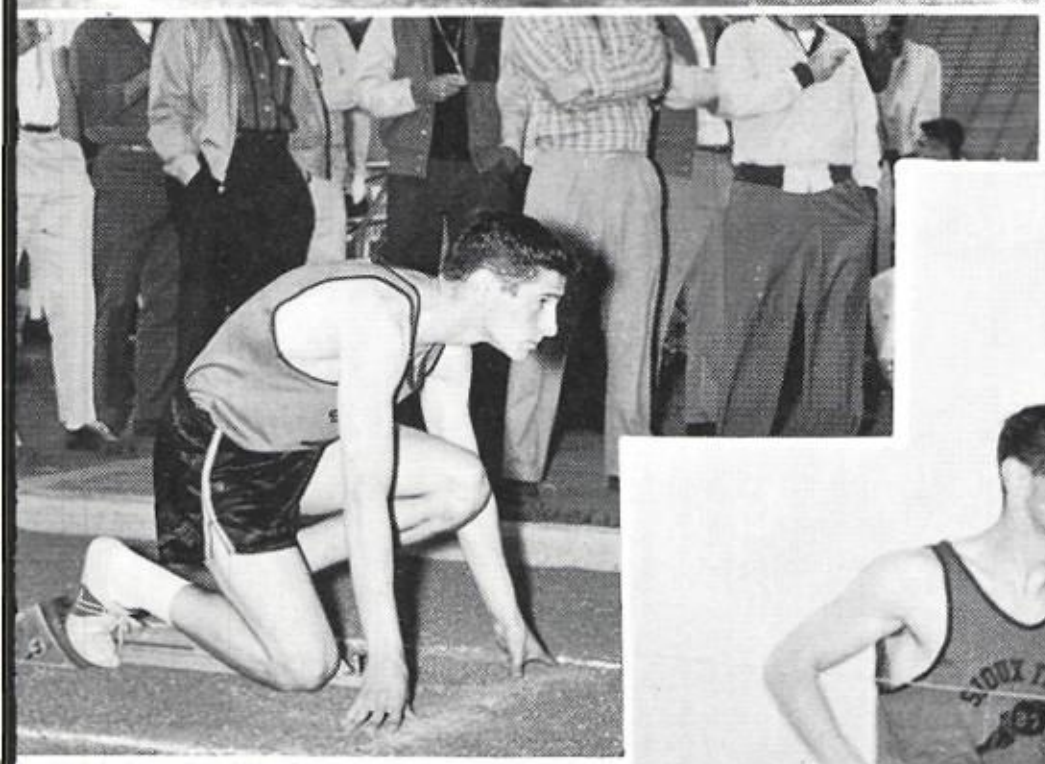
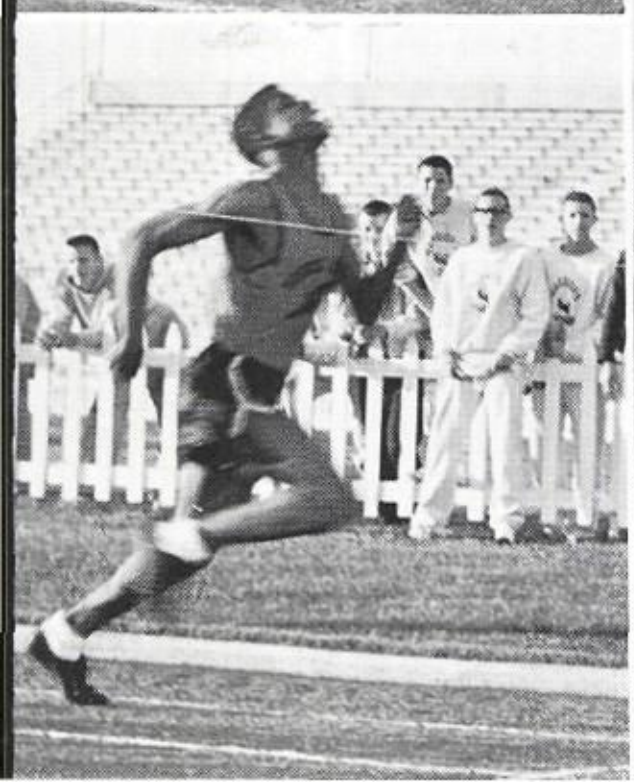
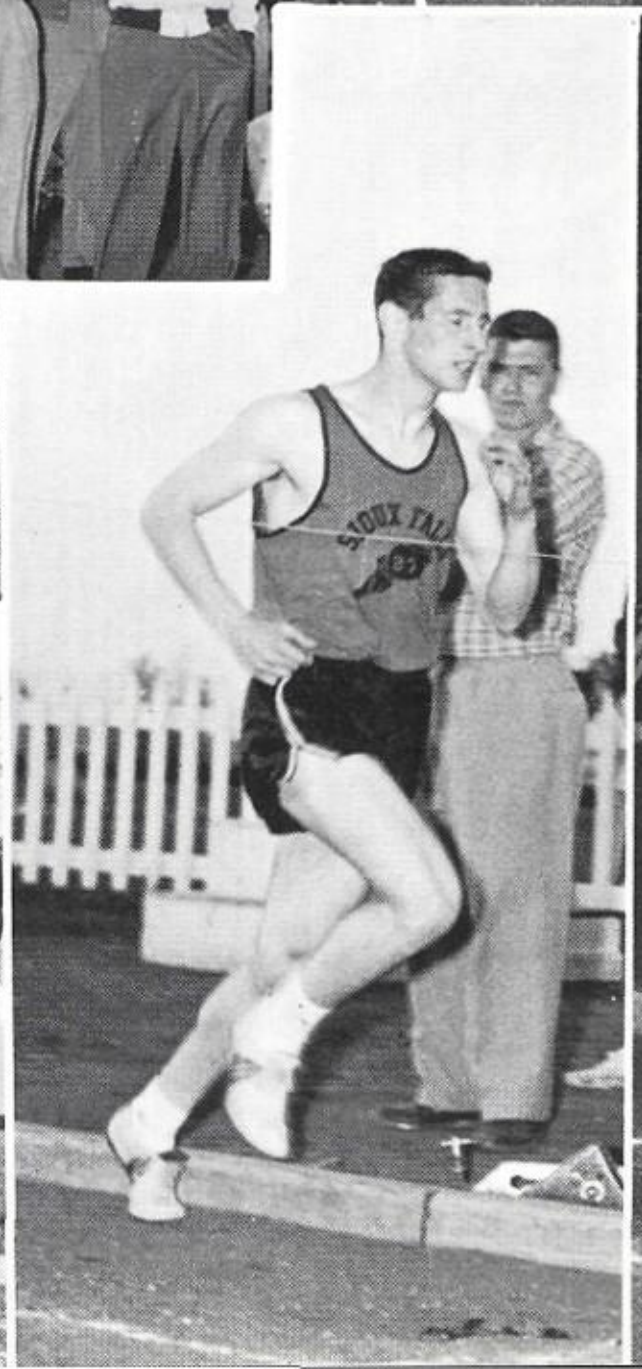
Tom Weber and Jeff Clark

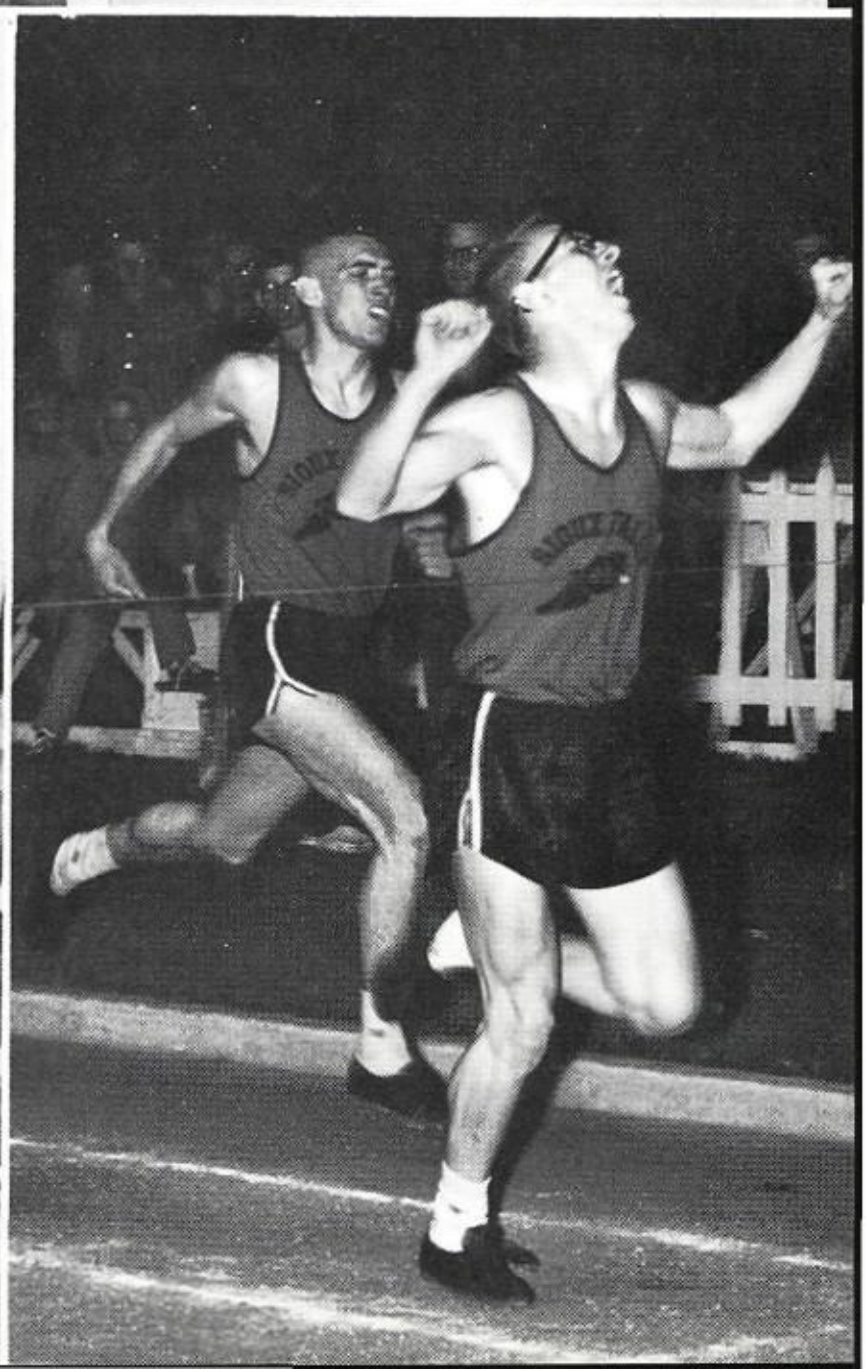
The young Washington High School tennis team composed of a sophomore, Jeff Clark, and a junior, Tom Weber, astounded their competition by sweeping the 1961 State Tennis Tournament at Aberdeen, South Dakota. Jeff won the singles by defeating Tom 6-1, 6-0, in the finals. They then pooled their efforts to crush Jerry Larson and Bill Thompson of Aberdeen in the finals of the doubles competition 6-2, 6-1. It was the tenth year in a row that Washington won the doubles and the ninth year in a row for singles. One of the reasons that the Washington High tennis team is so successful is the large number of proficient players who try out; many practice the year around.

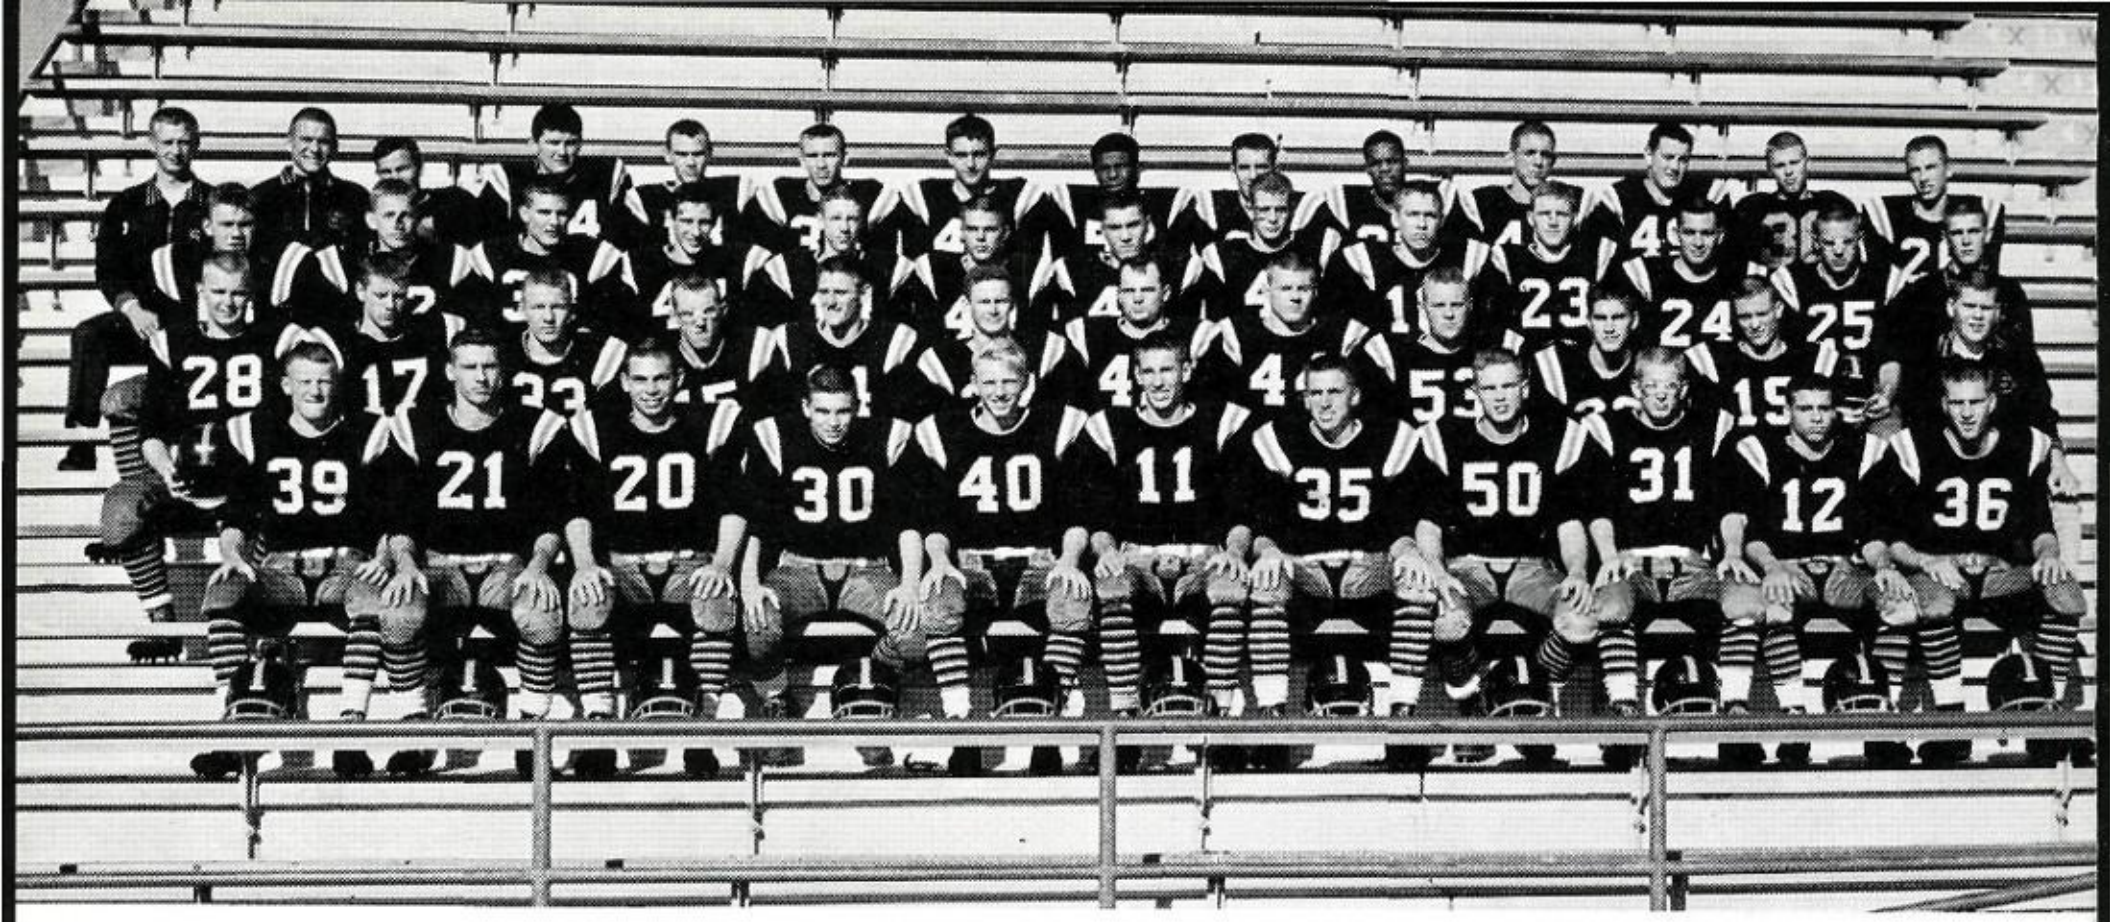












First row: Steve McGreevy, Leo Papas, Gary Swain, Brian Peterson, Joe Ziegahn, Bob Friess, LeRoy Halstenson, Lloyd Schrader, Phil Person, Cliff Hammers, Steve Nord. Second row: Denny Finch, Dave Lymes, Tom Vanderheiden, Jim Cindrich, Fred McCurnin, Phil Bendick, Mike Burleigh, Frank Smith, Terry Petheram, Ronnie Roe, Rod Steele, (S.M.) Rich Olson. Third row: Paul Evans, Jeff Hagen, John Jacobson, Jim Breit, Jim Cain, Doug Tellinghuisen, George Scarman, John Mehrens, Les Brandhagen, James Hilferty, Dean DeVault, Bill Raker, (S.M.) Jim Foster. Fourth row: (S.M.) Ray Horner, Andrey Blumberg, Layton Stadheim, Gene Elrod, Stan Brue, Charles Roberts, Dave Werner, Rich Harris, Gerald Johnson, Jim Clark, Steve Brzica, Lyle Skalland, Don Plender, Jim DeSaix.

Warriors Complete Season with 7-2 Record

In a great team effort, the Warriors came up with a 7-2 record against some of the nation's toughest high school teams. Putting on an impressive offensive show, the team ground out 228 points in nine games and were never held to less than fourteen points. Although the defense wasn't so effective as the offensive unit (they allowed 116 points during the season), they held their opponents many times on vital plays. Gary Swain led in scoring with sixty-six points. Leo Papas kicked twenty-three straight extra points and finished with twenty-eight of thirty conversions. A discouraging 24-21 loss to a Muskegon, Michigan Central Catholic team snapped a fifteen game undefeated streak.

The Warriors started the season with a 41-6 romp over Sioux Falls O'Gorman. Next week, however, they found themselves on the short end of a 13-0 score at the end of the third quarter against Fargo Central, and had to fight back with two touchdowns, by Breit and Hammers, and two conversions by Papas in the fourth quarter to win, 14-13.

Talking over the Boys' Town victory with Skip Palrang, defeated Boys' Town mentor, are Warrior coaches Dick Day, Lloyd Dobratz, and Robert Otto.

The undefeated Orange and Black then went west for their first out-of-town game of the season and, with Harris scoring three touchdowns, trampled Rapid City, 42-21. They kept up their winning ways by blanking Sioux City Central on OLD, 35-0.

Next came the trip to Muskegon, Michigan; trailing 18-7 at the half, the Warriors couldn't overcome the larger Crusader line and fell, 24-21. Then the team ruined Sioux City East's homecoming, 14-6. Swain scored both touchdowns.

Still on the road, the Warriors sent Swain over for all three touchdowns as Aberdeen crumpled, 20-7. At home, finally, against Boys' Town, Washington put on a superb exhibition of single-wing power in the second half with Swain and Harris toting the ball for most of the yardage to defeat previously undefeated Boys' Town, 14-7.

Playing against Sioux City Heelan in near-frigid temperature in the last game of the season, the Warriors lost, 32-27. Both teams put on a tremendous offensive show. The Warriors scored the first three times they had the ball.

Critics agreed that the Washington Senior High School line play left little to be desired during the 1961 season. Opponents respected the savage Warrior line, as opponents' fumbles, blocked punts, and assorted lumps testified.

The linemen pictured above, coached by Lloyd Dobratz, scrapped to keep our backs moving goalward. Coach Dick Day had much praise for his perennially tough defense of which these boys formed an essential part.

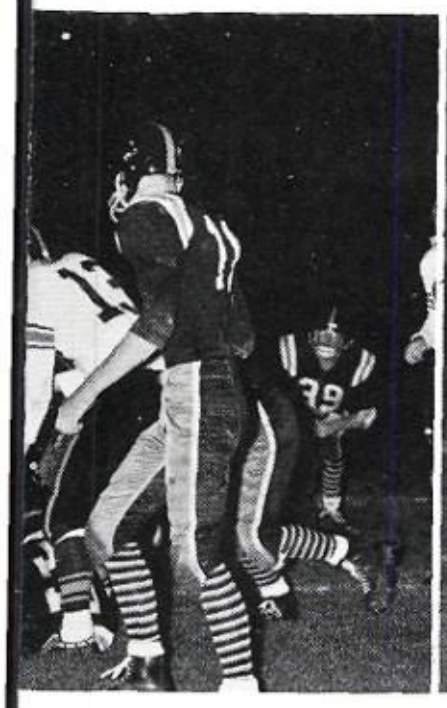
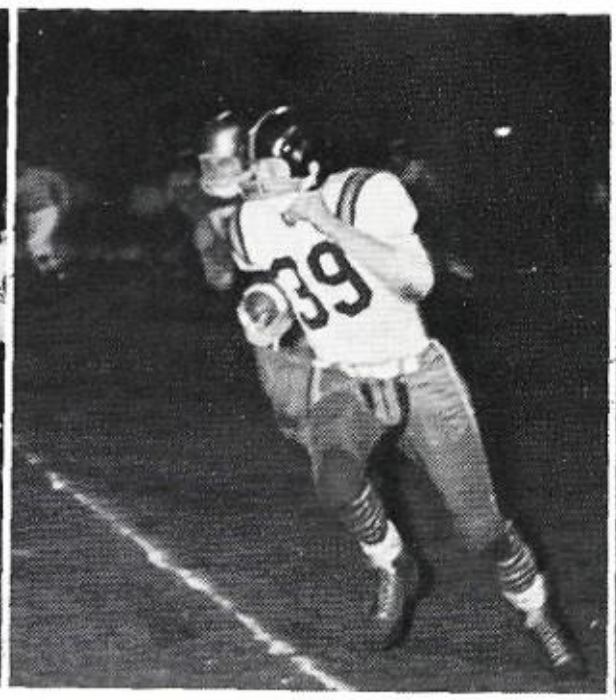
The Warrior ends showed a fine balance of speed, strength, brains, and courage all during the season. The defensive responsibilities of the ends were especially tested this year as the Daymen played many speedy opponents. The pass catching ability shown wasn't the best, however.

Warrior Athletes Compose Third Of All-State "AA" Team





Opponents will attest that Bob Friess is among the toughest linemen hereabouts. He is known for his desire, courage, blocking kicks, plugging holes, and generally making himself conspicuous all over the gridiron.

Steve McGreevy, an end, assumed many of the pass-catching duties of the Warriors. He did a commendable job as a linebacker and runner. Steve had a slow start early in the season, but came up to a State "AA" choice.

Gary Swain was named by the Argus-Leader for demonstrating the greatest individual effort in sports in 1961. The Muskegon newspapers said that Gary was the toughest high school athlete they had seen for many years.

Leo "Duke" Papas was on everyone's All-State team. A fine all-around athlete and student, Leo has interested the coaches of many colleges and universities around the country.

Sophs Have Frustrating First Year

The sophomores of WSHS had a disappointing season in 1961, as have had tenth grade teams in the past. The Little Warriors, as usual, showed much individual prowess. This ability was especially noticeable in the backfield. Coaches Newcomb, Fritzemeier, and Nelson shaped the boys into a unit, stressing fundamentals.

Warriors Finish With 16-3

When the Sioux City Central's Little Maroons edged the Washington Warriors 74-67, it was the first time any team had turned the trick during the season. The Warriors roared through the season, ending up with a 16-3 record and the ESD title.

The Warriors knocked off Sioux City East 51-37 and proceeded through their next 13 games, including two at the Kiwanis Invitational Tourney without losing a one. Then came the loss at Sioux City followed by two more at the hands of Watertown 57-56 and then Aberdeen 42-37. The Warriors then wound up their season with two victories over Mitchell and Huron.

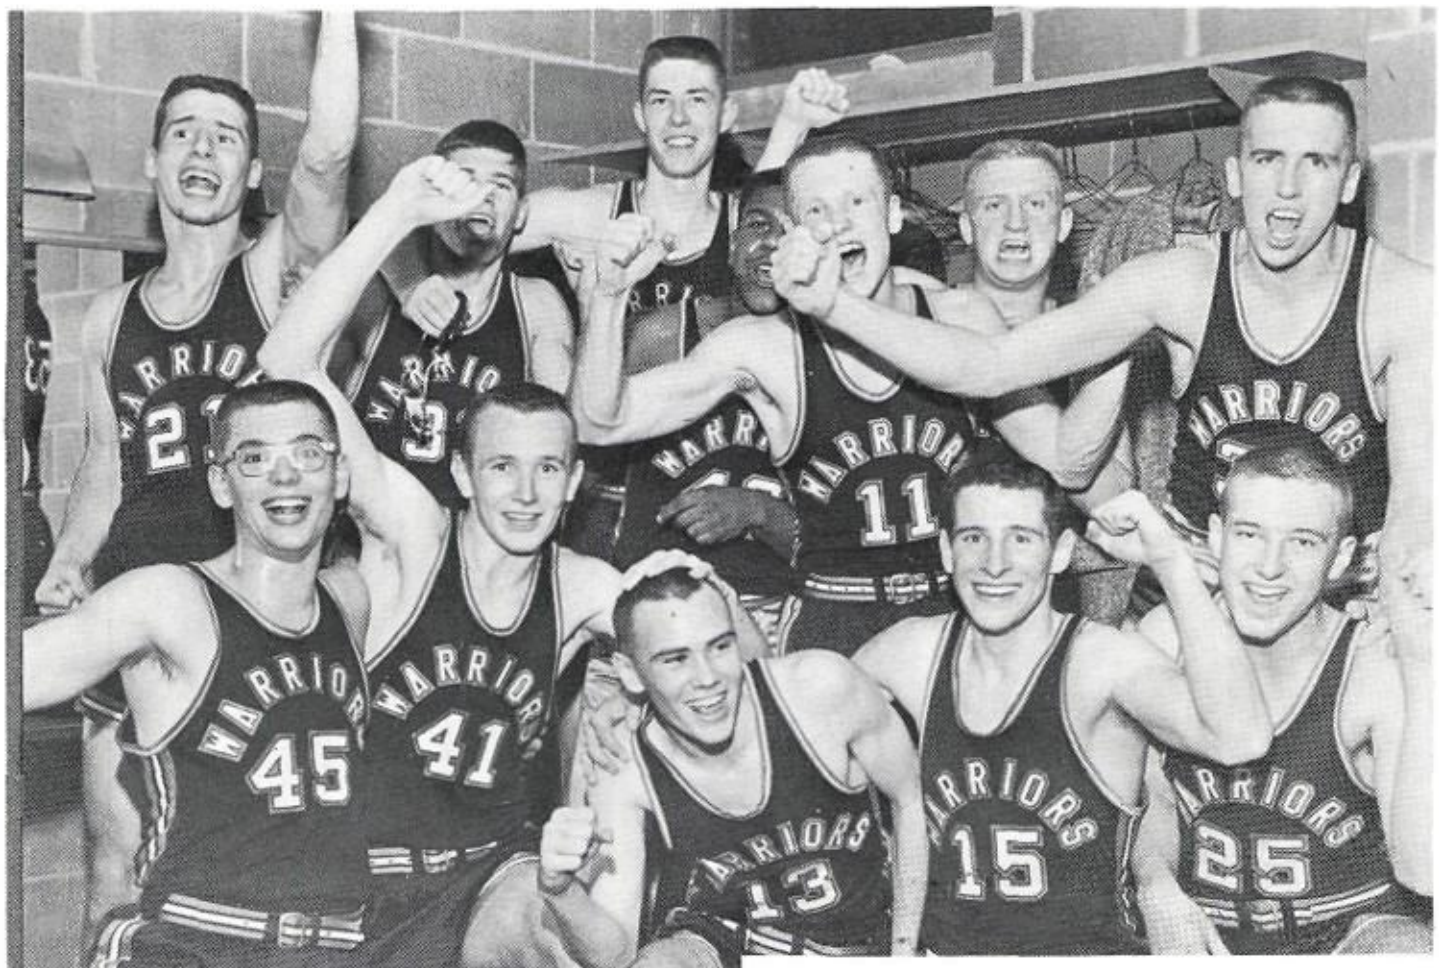
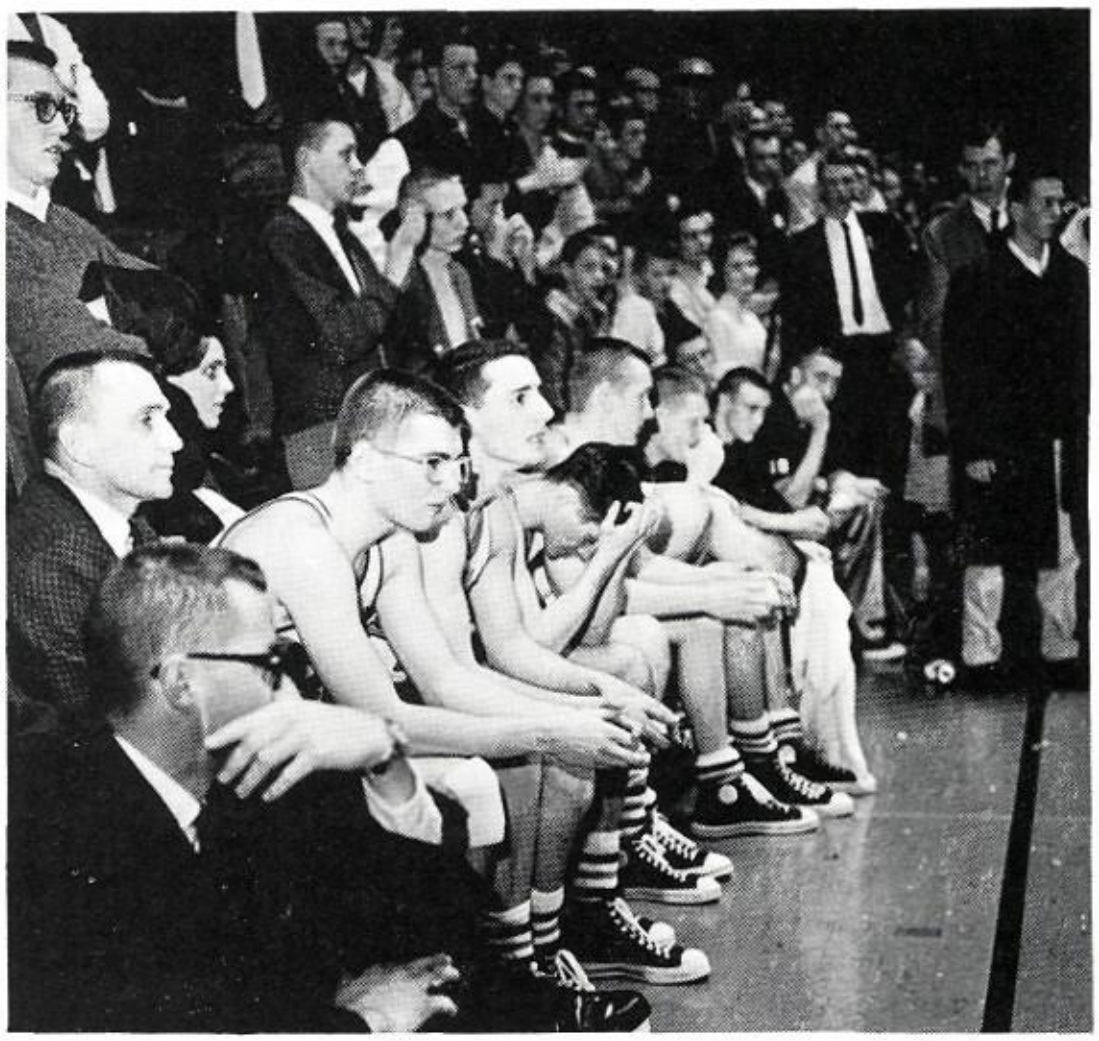
"A" Tourney Was an Exciting Spectacle



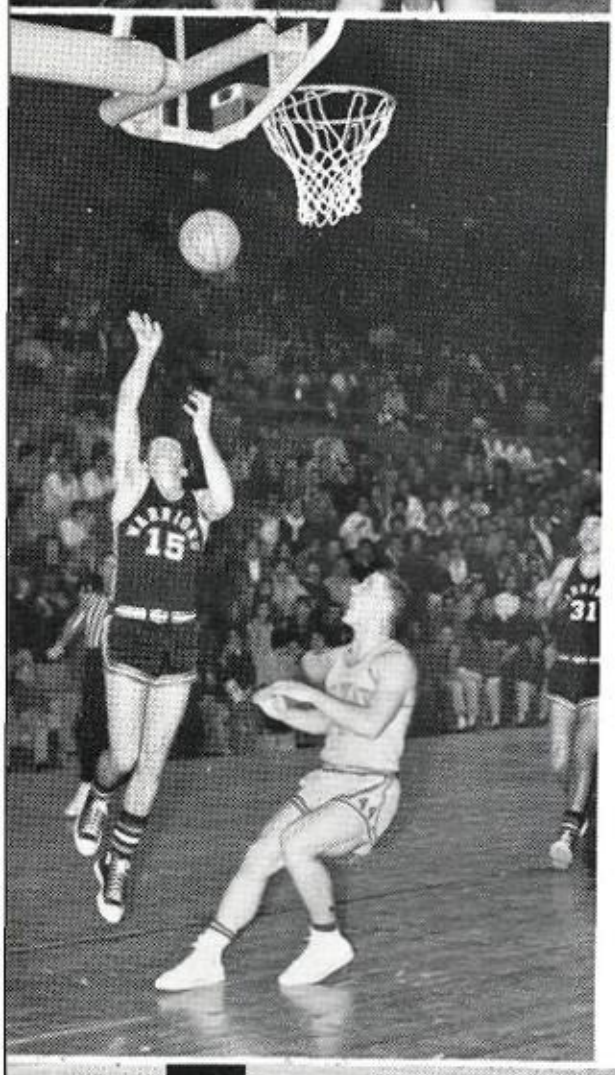


The 1962 State "A" basketball tournament spectators were filled with mixed emotion. The capacity crowds at the Huron Arena saw what was probably the most exciting "A" Tourney in a decade. The old sayings about the "A" tournament being the same old "control" games were soundly eliminated in a series of twelve thrilling cage tussles. The Warriors began the single elimination by squeaking by the Rapid City Cobblers 48-44 in the first hard-fought "comeback" for the Bauermen. The Orange and Black came from behind to astound the complacent spectators with a series of well executed scoring plays and sound defense to stump their cross-state rivals in an action-packed fourth quarter.

The Sisseton game was described as "sensational," "terrific," "the best game I've ever seen," and of course, "impossible"!

The Sioux battled against almost insurmountable odds as the Redmen led most of the way, until the end of an unbelievable fourth quarter when little Stan Brue lifted a climactic lay-up with seven seconds left to push the Warriors' fourth quarter score to 22 and forced the game into over-time which enabled the Warriors to eventually win, 59-58.

A genuine heart-breaker for the Warriors came at the hands of the Brookings Bobcats. A pathetic panorama of joy and tears filled the Arena court as the Bobcats slid by the Warriors, 42-39, in a memorable scrap which saw the Warriors close at the heels of Brookings until the final gun sounded.



Cagers Capture First Christmas Tourney

The Warriors easily captured the first annual Kiwanis Invitational Basketball Tournament in the premiere cage tussle of the new arena. The Bauermen were probably in their best form of the early season as they crushed Rapid City, South Dakota, and Fargo, North Dakota, in consecutive evening bouts. The unusually large holiday crowd saw Leo Papas and Jamie Breit turn in their best individual performances of the year. Also, Jim Sorensen, Terry Comstock, and Wally Werner worked well in a great team effort. Coaches Bauer and Dobratz had a chance to use all of the thirteen-man squad in the easily-won scraps. Much praise must go to our two fine coaches for their inspired leadership both on and off the basketball court.
